MRS. ANDREW L. DUGAS
 ... Lives in Long Beach
 (Portrait by Seeman)

Scott-Dugas Wedding Solemnized At Chapel

Methodist Wayside Chapel was the setting for the 7 o'clock wedding on Sept. 9 when Miss Judith Ann Scott plighted her marriage vows with Andrew L. Dugas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Scott, 1750 252nd St., Lomita. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dugas of Wilmington.

Rev. C. E. Spier officiated at the marriage before a flower banked altar. Mrs. Robert Malcolm played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Jesse McMinn, who sang "O Perfect Love" and "Because."

The bride, approaching the altar on the arm of her father, was gown in a floor length white Chantilly lace and peau de soie. The fitted bodice had a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. The full princess skirt fell into a chapel train. The English silk illusion bridal veil was held by a Cinderella cap of lace and pearls. Pink roses, white carnations and stephanotis formed the bridal bouquet.

Miss Gae Flagg was maid of honor and Misses Shari

Church and Judi Hall were bridesmaids. They wore pink satin sheaths with white eyelet overskirts and carried white carnations and pink roses.

Candles were lit by Misses Marilyn Dexheimer, Linda Whiteside, and Roy Trevethan.

Clifford Duhn was best man and ushers were Oystein Husoe and Roger Peabody.

A reception was held at the church. Patti Pyeate was in charge of the guest book.

The newlyweds spent a honeymoon in San Francisco. Their new address is 400 E. Arbor, Long Beach.

The bride was graduated from Narbonne High school and Harbor College. Her husband is a graduate of Banning High, Harbor College and Long Beach State.

MRS. JOHN F. PACKEY
 ... Recites Vows
 (Portrait by Seeman)

Marva Jones Becomes Bride of John Packey

Miss Marva Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin R. Jones, 1633 Acacia Ave., became the bride of John F. Packey in a mid-afternoon ceremony on Saturday, Sept. 9, at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Hugh Percy, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony at an altar flanked by three floral bouquets of blue and white chrysanthemums and gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The gown was fashioned with long tapered sleeves with a scalloped square neckline forming a deep V at the back emphasizing the princess waist and Chantilly peplum falling over a bouffant tulle skirt.

Her elbow length illusion veil was secured by a crown of pearls and jewels. The bridal bouquet was of orchids and stephanotis.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was Mrs. Sharon McBride of Lomita, serving as matron of honor. She wore a sheath dress of pale blue lace over taffeta. Her bouquet was of white gladioli tied with blue ribbons.

Mr. Packey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Packey of Hemet, recently of Des Moines, Iowa, chose his brother, Joseph Packey, as best man. Ushers were Howard Vinnes, Daniel Beauchamp, and Robert Jones.

Meredith Anderson, organist, played the wedding marches.

A reception was held at the church with Mrs. J. P. Montague serving as hostess. Mrs. Nancy Stinger registered the guests.

After a three weeks honeymoon in Yosemite, Squaw Valley and Lake Tahoe, the newlyweds will be at home at 310 Electric St., Alhambra.

The bride was graduated from Torrance High school and El Camino college.

Her husband was graduated from Drake University in 1959 where he was affiliated with Sigma Chi and Delta Sigma Pi.

Ann Landers

 as cheap and abusive is an unfair and inaccurate generalization.

Dear Ann Landers: The woman who comes to clean for me three days a week is about 40 years of age. She has a nice figure but she has a homely face. Yesterday she showed up in a two-piece strapless outfit, midriff style. When she knelt over to wipe up the kitchen floor she almost lost the top of her outfit. My husband thought this was very amusing.

I have lived in this country only two years. Is it proper to tell a woman who comes to clean what kind of dresses to wear? My husband says no. What do you say?—E.K.

Dear E. K.: Not only is it proper, but in this case it seems urgent. Tell her a simple house dress will do. Some cleaning women wear uniforms. It might be nice if you bought her one.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Pouting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your requests 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Will Attend Workshops CDA Show Tonight

Officers of the California Division of the National Secretaries Assn. (International) will conduct twelve workshops at the California Southern Public Relations meeting to be held Sept. 23 at the Jolly Rogers Inn in Anaheim.

Mrs. W. Howard Smith, 1836 Sepulveda Blvd., Torrance, public relations representative for the South Bay Chapter, NSA, will serve as her Chapter's delegate. Mrs. F. G. Charles of Hawthorne, chapter president, was chosen as a delegate.

Colorful fashions, delightful decorations, and numerous door prizes is the lineup for this evening's fashion show to be staged by the Court St. Catherine, Catholic Daughters of America.

The annual event will take place at 8 p.m. at the new Nativity Parish auditorium, Engracia and Arlington Ave. Tickets will be available at the door. The public is invited.
