Top Artists Show Works At Gallery

First place winners of the recent open competitive show held at The Drawing Room, 1402 Cravens Ave., have combined efforts to present an interesting and varied show at the downtown gallery.

Marion Cummings, described as an artist of specific talents, is showing watercolors in the California tradition. Mrs. Cummings has been active in local art groups, including the Torrance Art Group.

Elsa Nelson, artist-teacher of the Portuguese Bend area, is exhibiting oil renderings, said to be of outstanding merit. Mrs. Nelson has been represented in many groups and one-man shows throughout the area and is an active member of the Artists Co-Op.

Another member of the Artists Co-Op honored as a member of the exhibiting trio is George Michaud, who has many examples of oil and mixed media renderings in the reception gallery. Michaud is described as a young man of considerable versatility and talent.

Mrs. Bernard L. Hofer, studio director, reports the exhibit will remain until Dec. 2. The gallery is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and from 7 to 10 p.m. evenings except Thursday and Saturday.

Accountants Hear Expert

Members of the Systems and Procedures Assn. and California Society of Certified Public Accountants met jointly Tuesday evening to hear S. W. Skipworth discuss "Modern Management and the Facts for its Decisions."

Skipworth, controller for Alloy Steel and Metals Co., has had extensive experience in the design and installation of accounting systems and procedures, according to C. A. Woodcock, public relations chairman for the Long Beach Chapter of CPA.

Space scientist Clarence Lundy of Torrance spoke on the subject, "Tomorrow's Scientists and Engineers," at a meeting of the student branch of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences at Cal Poly in Pomona Monday evening.

Lundy is a member of the technical staff on Project Relay for Space Technology Laboratories, Inc.
