Chef Plans Festive Yule Menu

"To eat, drink and be merry," the theme of Christmas-time, will also be the theme during the holidays at Marineland Restaurant in Palos Verdes, where a menu befitting the joyous season is planned by Chef Dutch Holland.

Festive foods, including special children's dinners, will be served Christmas day from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. The regular seafood menu will also be available, but old-fashioned roast young turkey will highlight the special holiday fare.

Reservations are suggested and Marineland Restaurant is also now accepting New Year's Eve reservations.

Gas Company Employees Slate Holiday Party

The southwest division of the Southern California Gas Co. here will hold a dinner dance for division employees and friends at the Windsor Ballroom in Los Angeles, Dec. 16, according to an announcement made today.

The event will begin with a social hour at 6:30, followed by dinner at 7:30, featuring roast prime rib of beef.

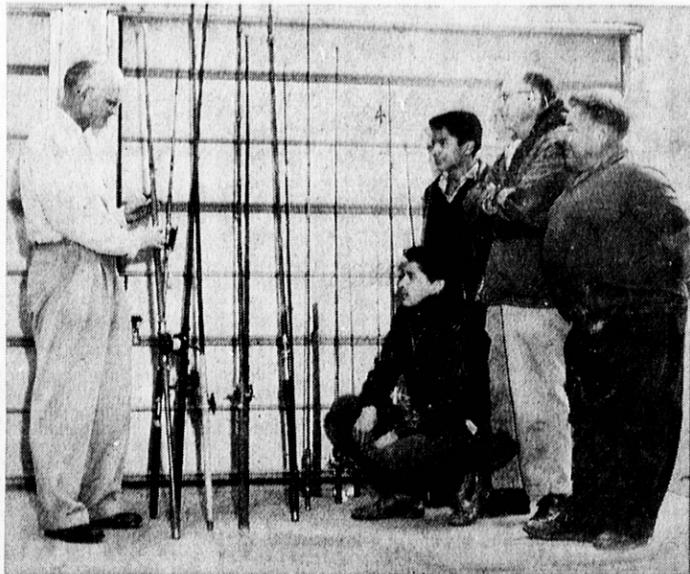

The evening activity, sponsored by the utility's southwest division women's committee, will include dancing to the music of a five-piece orchestra, group singing, and entertainment by the "Manhattaners," a barbershop quartet.

... Art Row

ing addition appeared in the form of a stained glass window, "Madonna of Chartres" is valued at $7000. The original still sheds jeweled light into the Cathedral Chartres in France. The window is so old that its origin is lost.

Andrea del Sarto's "Madonna of the Harpies" from the Uffizi gallery of Florence was added to the college collection in 1957.

Last year Venetian glass was used in the preparation of the second mosaic to make its appearance on the row. It is patterned after a Byzantine mosaic which is now in the church of St. Theodore in Daphne, Greece.

Clerks Face Court Over State Law

Three clerks in a Torrance discount house are scheduled to appear in Torrance Municipal Court next Tuesday on charges of violating a new state law that prohibits limiting quantities on special items.

Arrested for violations of the new section state codes were Thomas R. Hughes, 49, 22722 Marjorie Ave.; Arthur George Valdez, 19, 20909 Jamison Ave.; and Edison George Murray, 22, of 1324 W. 214th St. Hughes was listed as manager, the other as clerks of the grocery department of the firm at 20225 S. Western Ave.

Police said a complaint was obtained against the three after customers reported that the use of coupons printed in newspapers had been restricted at the store. The new law prohibits restricting the quantity of merchandise which can be sold to one customer at an advertised price.
