

Hold Annual Yule Program

The annual Christmas festivities were held by St. Mary of the Woods 205, Young Ladies Institute, according to Mrs. Joseph Skelley, president.

Mrs. Richard Zigrang, chairman of the Yuletide program, began the evening with a social hour which was held in St. Anthony's Parish Center. Assisting Mrs. Zigrang were Mrs. James Cragin and Mrs. Floyd Fitch.

The president conducted a short meeting, which was followed by games presented by Mrs. Joseph Mesplou. Prizes were awarded.

"The South Shore Four," a barbershop quartet, sang old favorites and traditional Christmas carols. They concluded their appearance by leading the Institute group in singing.

Santa Claus arrived with a bag full of gifts for secret pals and members.

The delightful mid-evening buffet was prepared by Mrs. Howard Richtik.

SANDRA RAYES
... DAR Contestant

Sandra Rayes Competes for DAR Award

Miss Sandra Rayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Rayes, 4302 W. 177th St., Torrance, has been selected to represent North High School in the district competition for the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship award.

North High senior girls voted for one senior on the basis of outstanding dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

Sandy will receive a pin and certificate award, and she will compete in the district contest which will be held in the near future. The winner of the district competition will be determined by an American history test which will comprise 68 per cent of the judging and on an activity report that will make up the remaining 40 per cent.

$25 bond will be presented to each winner of the nine districts. The district winners will then be eligible to enter state competition. The winner of the state competition will be determined by an essay contest, and she will then enter competition for national honors.

Breakfast Club Marks Holidays

Torrance Breakfast Club held its annual Christmas dinner Sunday evening at the Jump 'n Jack restaurant.

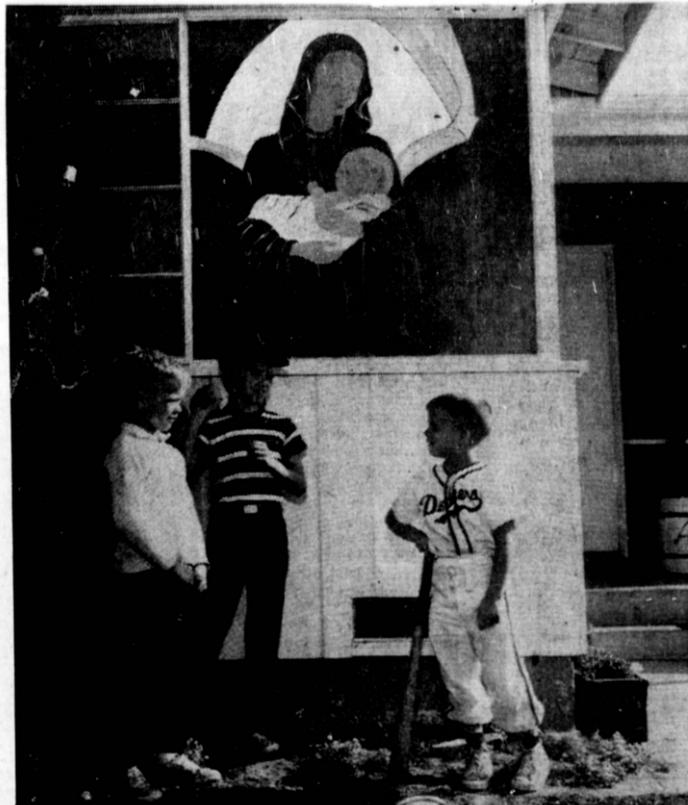

After the dinner, the club members went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jones in WALTERIA where they had a gift exchange and established their own "post office" for a card exchange.

In a short business meeting the group voted to assist a needy family at Christmas.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing cards and other games.

Fetes Mother

Paul Harestad of Torrance was the host at a dinner gathering at the Three Lions Restaurant, marking the birthdate of his mother, Mrs. Ruth Basch. Among those on hand to felicitate the honoree were Ruth Richards and Vicky Key.

ADMIRING SCENE... These three neighborhood boys, from left, Larry Simms, 9, John Belzer, 10, and Richard Belzer, 6, admire the painting of the Madonna and Child on the window at the home of Mrs. Andrew Acompora, 1208 Felbar. Mrs. Acompora used poster paints to create the scene. She also painted the windows and doors of the First Lutheran Church in Torrance for the Christmas season.

Progress is more than a word. / Progress is schools for on-the-grow children... modern medical facilities for the entire community... civic centers and centers of worship. / Progress is buildings going up, aspirations going up, too. / Progress is the steel industry of the Nineteen Sixties, as different from the steel industry of the Twenties as the futuristic car in the automobile show is from the surrey with the fringe on top. The numerous family of steels has grown vastly in number, in composition, and in structure; and through the wonders of research the members of this remarkably useful family of materials have been almost completely revolutionized. / But, most of all, progress is people constantly on the go toward tomorrow and tomorrow. U.S. Steel, now in its 61st year, is proud of the part it is playing—and will continue to play—in this progress.
