

Farce-Comedy Produced By Palos Verdes Players

By VIRGINIA TWOHY
 "Send Me No Flowers" means happy hours!

Anyway, King Sawers, director of the Palos Verdes Players' farce-comedy, is convinced that it should — with a top-notch cast headed by Dick Miller and Maxine Moudry and a dedicated backstage crew organized by Producer Marge Carlson and inspired by the creative genius of set-designer David Norton.

This is King's first production for the Peninsula group, but his theatrical record is long and impressive. While in the Army during World War II, he worked on camp shows and entertainment. Afterwards, he went with the famous "Meet the People" revue as stage manager, then on to City College as technical advisor, director, and teacher of drama and stagecraft.

IT WAS at City College that he met his actress-singer wife, Shirley. For five more years he served at UCLA in similar capacities. Then the Navy employed him to put on shows for their personnel in Japan, so the Sawerses packed up to see the world!

Now, back home in Torrance, King is acting vice principal for Dodson Junior High in the Los Angeles School system. Off hours, he keeps busy in the world of make-believe.

"Send Me No Flowers" is a delightful antic about a hypochondriac who overhears his doctor describing someone else's fatal symptoms, thinks his days are numbered, and proceeds to arrange elaborate forms of security for his wife's widowhood — even to selecting his successor!

BESIDES DICK Miller and Maxine Moudry, the experienced cast includes Ed Siani, Mike Martelli, Kyra Stephens, Peggy Lancaster, Paul Warf, Walt Reese, Roger Farnsworth, Gene Fitzmaurice, and David Borst.

Staging of the comedy, which opened Friday night at the Malaga Cove Auditorium, Palos Verdes, is scheduled to continue next week end with performances Friday and Saturday. Reservations may be arranged by telephoning 375-4134.

Officers of the California Highway Patrol enforce traffic laws on more than 81,000 miles of rural roads and highways throughout the state.
