(Continued from Page 17) remarried would like to have their men back. It took me seven years to wake up and smell the coffee, as you say. Now I wouldn't touch a divorced man with a 10-foot pole. — SADDER BUT WISER

Dear Wisser: My mail tells me your guess is a good one. And this is one reason I urge people who eye the divorce courts as a Cure-All to simmer down and take a good look at the big picture. To paraphrase Shakespeare's lines, "It's better to stick to the troubles you are acquainted with and learn how to handle them than to fly off into a world of troubles you know nothing about."

Dear Ann Landers: Now that the weather is getting lovely again I know I'll be faced with the same old problem — the next door neighbor. She's pleasant and we get along well but our back doors are very close together and she is over here a lot.

We have a telephone in the kitchen which has a long cord. Often when the phone rings she makes a run for it, even if I am closer.

Sometimes she chats with my friends and this irritates me. I hate to tell her not to answer my phone because I know she wants to be helpful. What is a tactful approach — or am I being picaresque?—EDGY

Dear Edgy: It's poor manners to answer someone else's phone unless you are asked to do so. Simply tell her that you see no reason for her to be bothered with your calls from now on and you'll answer.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teague Smoking," enclosing with your request 10¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
