... Ann Landers

What is even worse, however, is that many guests probably did not recognize it as a gag. They thought they were donating to help the mentally ill.

Dear Ann: My head is going round in circles. I was engaged to my childhood sweetheart just before he went into the service. I never went with any other fellow except Tim. He's been away for 11 months.

Last Christmas I visited relatives in Connecticut. My uncle has a fellow working for him who came along one night to "round out the party." It wasn't even considered a date because he knew I was engaged. We got along swell (lots of laughs) and the next day he came ice-fishing with us.

To make a long story short we had a great time together—purely platonic. Then he kissed me goodbye and everything changed. I haven't seen him since, but his letter thrill me more than my fiancé's.

If I could spend tomorrow evening with one of these two fellows it wouldn't be Tim. Tim expects to marry me when he comes home. What shall I do? — WHIRLING DERVISH.

Dear Dervish: You aren't ready for marriage—to anyone. When Tim comes home return his ring and date other fellows.

To learn the booby-traps of teenage dating, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. © 1962, Field Enterprises, Inc.
