

The Good Time Girl Has Surprise Coming

In talking to today's crop of Hollywood's young male stars, I found that most agree on several serious drawbacks found in the equally young women they date.

Besides the fact that you don't seem to have the intelligence to carry on an entertaining conversation, are not charming and mannerly, what, as they say it, "bugs" them, is your lack of self-respect. They referred to it as "overeagerness."

"The worst kind of date to get trapped with," moaned one, "is the kind who looks, acts and is approachable. She wears you out all evening with double-meaning remarks and actions, and even in what she wears. She wants you to know in no uncertain terms that she's a pushover and you should start pushing.

"I wonder sometimes if all kids think that because we're in the picture business we're all lechers." He shook his head sadly.

Another complained: "A man dislikes a girl who makes him ashamed of himself, a girl who is cheap and advertises it by what she wears and how she talks.

"I can count on my hands all the good girls I've been fortunate enough to date. And it may surprise a lot of girls to know this, but we all agree a 'good girl' is a lot more fun to be out with than a 'good time girl.'"

Great wisdom for his age was shown by a teen-age record idol who spoke like this: "Why can't girls relax and be girls? They show up in the weirdest outfits and hair styles, trying to look older than they are.

"They think it's sophistication, when all the time they look like something that's been orbited one time too many and had a hard time getting through the atmosphere.

"That's why most often we prefer to be with older women. They are truly sophisticated. They don't wear some ridiculous fad because everyone else does. Any girl who goes along with a crowd loses me fast."

A motion picture idol out of his teens laughed when I asked his opinion of you. Said he, "Those kids trying to look and act like grownups only look and act like kids."

So remember, girls, you can never buy or sell respect. You may have fewer dates by maintaining it, but compare them with rhinestones and diamonds. Rhinestones have no value because everyone can have them, but diamonds never lose their value; they're precious.

As my aunt the Contessa says, "There is no substitute for good taste, and men most of all know and respect this." Now take a look at yourself in the mirror.
