Work on Area Street
Projects Progresses

Work on a multiple roadway improvement project in the Carson area is progressing on schedule for improvement of over 104,000 square feet of new pavement at a cost of $42,500, Supervisor Burton W. Chace announced yesterday.

Pavement on the westerly side of Vermont Avenue between Carson and 220th streets is being reconstructed along with other improvements in the Harbor General Hospital area.

The program also provides for improvements of portions of Carson Street, Torrance Boulevard, Main Street, and 223rd Street, all in the Carson area.

"These streets are all heavily traveled," Chace said, pointing out that the improvements will add greatly to traffic safety and efficiency in use of the streets.

Light Installed

Installation of a new light on Redondo Beach Boulevard at Ainsworth Avenue was ordered Tuesday by the Board of Supervisors.

The current annual cost of operating such a light is $55 and the Southern California Edison Co. will install it at no cost to the county.
