

Drainage Lines to Serve Walteria, Torrance Area

Additional drainage facilities to serve Walteria and Torrance have been completed. The drains were built by M & J Construction Co. and Vinson Construction Co. of La Canada as a joint venture. Their bid of $1,015,793.50 was low among four proposals filed with M. E. Salisbury, chief engineer of the Flood Control District.

SIX SEPARATE drainage lines were included in the contract. Laid end to end, they would stretch three miles. One starts at the intersection of Avenue I at Elena Street and runs east in Avenue I to Pacific Coast Highway, east in the highway to Paseo De Las Delicias, south in this avenue to Paseo De Gracia and it continues south in Paseo De Gracia for an additional 300 feet. A second line joins an existing watercourse northeast of Pacific Coast Highway and winds west and southwest through rights of way to Madison Avenue.

LINE THREE starts at the Redondo Beach Boulevard-Crenshaw Boulevard intersection and extends to the district's Dominguez Channel. The fourth line picks up at Dominguez Channel and Crenshaw and runs south and southwest in Crenshaw, rights of way and Elgar Avenue to 170th Street. Line five begins at Glenburn Avenue south of 174th Street and extends in Glenburn, rights-of-way and 182nd Street to Prairie Avenue. A portion of this line is being built as part of the State Division of Highways' San Diego Freeway. Final line included in the contract runs in Torrance Boulevard between Engracia and Madrid Avenues. Cost of the key drains was included in the 225 million bond issue which won approval by county voters in 1958. Supervisor Kenneth Hahn added.
