Comedy Play Slated Dec. 26 In Hollywood

"Come Blow Your Horn," the long run New York comedy hit about a playboy who too successfully shows his kid brother how to be a Don Juan, will be presented by William D. Swanson at his Las Palmas Theatre in Hollywood beginning Wednesday night, Dec. 26.

This first play by Neil Simon — author of "Sgt. Bilko" and other celebrated TV programs, and of the present Broadway musical hit, "Little Me," ran up a record of 85 weeks in New York during 1961 and 1962.

"Come Blow Your Horn" is the ideal play for all theatergoers. A domestic comedy with which anyone in the audience can find identification and hilarity. It contains all the ingredients that made "Life With Father" a universal hit.

Robert Christopher stars as the elder son who particularly stirs his father's wrath because he has passed his 30th birthday and is still deaf to wedding bells, and also because he spends more time on long skiing weekends with a succession of pretty girls.

The Las Palmas box office is now open for the advance seat sale, including two special New Year's Eve performances at 8 and 10:30.

"A good many of the southern accents you hear around here sound as though they were acquired from drinking out of a Dixie cup." — Bert Masterson, Hartsdale (N. Y.) Masterson Press.

County Road Funds Approved

A total of $5,000 has been allocated for improvement of Knox Street near Normandie Avenue in the Carson area.

The program will include asphalt concrete pavement designed to join the newly constructed curbs and gutters in the area.

The work will be scheduled by the road department in its regular street assignment schedule.

Festivities Planned for Harbor Hospital Patients

Harbor General Hospital patients who "won't be home for Christmas" will have holiday festivities brought to their bedside.

Caroling, gifts, parties for children, special programs for isolated chest patients, gaily decorated trees, wards and corridors will start tomorrow.

The observance of the holiday season is under the direction of Mrs. Marguerite Broen McAllister, chief of patient services, and the hospital's volunteer groups.

Their programs will be supplemented by churches, social organizations, schools, Salvation Army, and citizen singing clubs.

Gifts which have been piling up at the hospital since late November will be distributed by the volunteers to adult and children wards Dec. 20-21-22 all day and until noon, Dec. 24.

Highlight for the kiddies will be the annual party in Ward C-8 sponsored by the Volunteers for Children. There will be cake and candy and dolls and toys and of course, Santa Claus.

There will be gifts for children in the clinics as well as in the wards but only children actually registered as clinic patients will qualify. Mrs. McAllister said.
