your good sense, and are now consumed with regret. Congratulations for having the judgment and the courage to go back to school. I feel sorry for the hundreds who wrote to tell me they didn't.

Dear Ann Landers: I took my two youngsters to a birthday party last week. The birthday girl was their 8-year-old cousin.

My sister-in-law set a nice table of refreshments. There in the center of the table was a large cake with beautiful decorations and candles.

The candles were lighted and the children sang "Happy Birthday to You." I thought surely my sister-in-law would cut the cake but she didn't. The birthday girl made a wish, blew out the candles, and then her mother took the cake into the kitchen.

I could see the children's eyes following that cake and it made me sad. Was she right or wrong?—JUST ASKING

Dear Asking: The birthday cake is traditional. To children, it is usually the most meaningful part of the celebration. The cake should have been cut for the children.

Confidential to Closet Full of Rags: Stop blaming your unpopularity on your wardrobe, Young Lady. Of all the things you wear, your facial expression is the most important.

If alcohol is robbing you of someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help for the Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

John Stephen was baptized Dec. 22 at St. Raymond's in Downey. After the baptism the Grileys entertained relatives and friends at dinner at their home.

FROM ADOPTED LAND . . . John Roe shows a walrus watch band, studded with gold nuggets, to his sister, Mrs. John Kyllingstad, as they enjoy a reunion after 51 years. The band was made from a tusk of a walrus caught by Mr. Roe on a fishing expedition in the Bering Sea. Mr. Roe is visiting here from Alaska where he has made his home since 1912.

After 51 Years

Christmas Reunion For Brother, Sister

Of her many memorable Christmases, Mrs. John Kyllingstad, 76, 1557 W. 220th St., will, no doubt, top the list with her Christmas of 1912.

It was this Christmas that her brother, John Roe, 70, of Seldovia, Alaska, came to visit her for the first time in 51 years.

For this happy reunion, John arrived just before Christmas and will leave Monday by bus for Seattle where he will board a plane for Seldovia.

In 1903, when she was only 17 years old, Mrs. Kyllingstad left Norway for Minnesota, U.S.A. She was married in 1906 and moved to Valley City, N.D. and in 1907 her 14-year-old brother, John, arrived from Norway.

A few years later, John and another brother, Tony, decided to "go west." They came to the coast, worked here for awhile and in 1912 headed for Alaska. Tony is a wheelchair victim in a home in Sitka, Alaska, the result of an accident.

The Kyllingstads moved to Torrance 12 years ago.

During the past two weeks, they and their visitor from Alaska have enjoyed a visit covering the past 51 years, along with touring Disneyland, Marineland, and other interesting spots in southern California.

Mr. Roe has his own boat and equipment. He fishes for salmon for many of the big canneries in the northwest.

With fishing as his livelihood for many years, Mr. Roe has taken advantage of his residence in a "hunter's paradise" and can relate many interesting stories of his hunts for caribou, moose and bear on the inland tundra.
