

Ann Landers (Continued from Page 9) homes and get into mischief.

Dear Ann Landers: We are up to our necks in debts. My husband likes to gamble and he lies to me constantly. He swears he has paid certain bills. Later I get letters from the stores and telephone calls from the credit managers. Finally the collectors show up in person.

I learned recently that he borrowed $300 from some close friends. These people are kind-hearted and have no extra money. The man was laid off last week and now I just can't face them.

I want to take a part-time job and pay these friends back. My husband says no, that he'll pay them as soon as he can. In the meantime, I can't sleep at night worrying about our debts and the family's reputation.

I need some advice. Can you help?

MONEY WORRIES

Dear Worries: By all means go to work and start paying back the money. You'll feel better, and it will be a demonstration of good faith.

Your husband sounds like a compulsive gambler who needs help. Gambler's Anonymous may be the answer. Write for information to the national headquarters of Gambler's Anonymous, P. O. Box 17173, Los Angeles 17, Calif. And good luck.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far to Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (C) 1962, Field Enterprises, Inc.
