... Ann Landers

My husband is a good-looking, successful executive. We've been married for 20 years—or perhaps I should say, I have been married for 20 years. As you know a wife is always much more married than her husband.

Yesterday I received an anonymous phone call from a woman. She told me she walked into my husband's office and caught him embracing his secretary. She said she later had a talk with the secretary and warned her to leave my husband alone. I didn't recognize the caller's voice and she refused to reveal her identity. All she would say is "I am a friend."

I'm ill over this and don't know what to do. Shall I tell him about the phone call? I have no reason to believe he is cheating on me but they always say the wife is the last to know.—UN. D. SIDED

Dear Un: If you would allow an anonymous telephone call to make you ill, you have mighty little faith in your husband.

Tell him about the phone call calmly and dispassionately. Make it plain that your faith in him remains unshaken. He should be alerted that somebody is trying to break up his marriage.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love or Sex?" enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (C) 1962, Field Enterprises, Inc.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Even the most contented babies are sometimes beset by end-of-the-day crankiness. These out-of-sorts spells are often as much the result of boredom as of fatigue. A mother I know cures these cross-patch spells by providing a special social hour for her baby. There may be a game of peek-a-boo, a bit of knee dandling, a merry song or two. Another time there'll be a mother-baby gab-fest (any words or coos will do) or a 3-way romp with dad. Amazing how these family circle doings chase baby blues.

More cheer-up strategy. Babies brighten up when supper features a succulent Gerber Strained Meat, like Chicken, Beef or Ham. (Just 3 of 9 delightful varieties.) That's because the savory true-meat flavors have special baby-appeal. Made from selected Armour cuts, these quality meats are specially processed to remove most of the fat. For baby's nutritional build-up, Gerber Meats are high in protein... the big contributor to growth and muscle development.

P.S. Gerber Meats are famous for an exceptionally smooth, moist texture. Note from the Gerber nutritionist: "Serving your baby many kinds of vegetables and fruits helps build good food habits for future years. They provide a wide variety of taste experiences when food acceptances are most easily established."

Memo from Dan Gerber. "One of the continuing projects in our Agricultural Research program is exhaustive experimentation with varieties to find those with the highest nutritive values... the best flavor and color. Take Gerber Sweet Potatoes. A seven-year experiment with several sweet potato varieties resulted in the development of two special Gerber varieties which have considerably more vitamin-A value and appreciably more vitamin C than ordinary sweet potatoes. Also superior color and flavor." Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Every month... a $35 million Pacific Telephone payroll goes to work in California

Spent by people like Mrs. Robert Bliss (below), wife of one of our Communications Consultants, this payroll helps create business and prosperity all over the State. And as the number of Pacific Telephone people has increased to meet California's growing telephone needs, our payroll has grown larger, too (1962 total: $426 million). Yet phone rates in California are among the lowest in the country.
