

Ann Landers

(Continued From Page 9) I would be satisfied with one evening out every three weeks. He thinks nothing of going fishing with his friends on his days off, because he says a man has to "unwind." But he doesn't see why a woman needs a change of scenery. I'm becoming irritable and resentful. I scream at my kids and feel like a prisoner in my own home. Can you help me?—INCARCERATED Dear Incarcerated: You should have your night out every three weeks plus one evening out together at least once every other week. A sitter is a bargain compared with the cost of a nervous breakdown or a shattered marriage. Show this to your husband and tell him to grow up and get off the dime. To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How to Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (C) 1963, Field Enterprises, Inc.

Kaye Owens Exchanges Vows With Loren Dome

Vows recited in a six o'clock ceremony at Wayfarers' Chapel, Portuguese Bend, recently, united in marriage Miss Kaye Lynn Owens and Loren Edward Dome. The doubling service was performed by the Rev. Kenneth W. Knox in the presence of 175 relatives and friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Owens, 1550 Island Ave., Wilmington. Mr. Dome's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George J. Dome, 23245 Marigold Ave., Torrance. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Constantino original of white satin. Appliques of Alencon lace outlined the rounded neckline, cuffs and molded bodice as well as adding beauty to the full, scalloped skirt which flowed into a chapel train. Her finger-tip illusion veil was caught in a scalloped crown of pearls and she carried a cascading bouquet of white rosebuds centered by four white orchids. Bridal attendants were Miss Betty Tracy, maid of honor, and the Misses Maureen Hutchinson and Mary Tracy, bridesmaids, all of Wilmington. They were gowned in lavender brocade designed by the bride, with fitted bodices, long sleeves and tulip-shaped skirts. Tiny face veils fell from scalloped pearl crowns. Their flowers were matching lavender carnations. Serving as best man was James Didion of Long Beach. Ushers were the bridegroom's brothers, Fred and Charles Dome, Torrance. Attendant for the guest book was Miss Reva Brun, cousin of the bride, of Camarillo. Lavender, silver and white were artfully combined in floral decorations and other appointments for a reception for 225 guests which followed at the Fort MacArthur Officers' Club. Following a honeymoon sojourn in Las Vegas, the couple has established residence in Anaheim. The new Mrs. Dome is a 1960 graduate of Banning High School. She is a member of the Harbor Area North YWCA and a past Worthy Advisor of Wilmington Assembly 183, Order of the Rainbow for Girls. She is employed by Autometrics in Anaheim. Mr. Dome was graduated from Banning High School in June, 1959. He is presently employed as a carpenter in Orange County.

Torrance Juniors To Support Hope Project

The Torrance Junior Women's Club will hold its March business meeting Wednesday, March 13, at the clubhouse. The Academy Award Winning documentary filmed during the maiden voyage of the hospital ship S.S. Hope to Southeast Asia will be shown. The teaching-training vessel is now anchored in Salaverry, Peru, where it is bringing modern medical knowledge and skills to the medical profession and the people of that country. Project HOPE is a privately sponsored program to share America's medical knowledge and skills with the newly developed countries. The ship is a floating medical teaching and training center and the three-and-a-half million dollars which it takes annually to operate the vessel is contributed by individual Americans, by business and industry, labor, and other organizations. This year at the General Federation of Women's Clubs Convention, the Junior Membership voted to support Project HOPE on a national scale. Dr. John Williams of Inglewood will speak after the film and answer questions concerning this project. Torrance Juniors will make a donation of $100 to Project HOPE to help further the work of this worthwhile program. Mrs. Jack Bohn, education chairman, has arranged for Dr. S. E. Waldrip, assistant superintendent-business, of the Torrance Board of Education to speak to Juniors that evening. He will be giving facts and figures concerning the forthcoming bond issue in April. The annual election of officers will be held following the two programs for the evening.
