Jack Baedeker, executive assistant with the Metropolitan Transit Authority will speak Tuesday at a meeting of the South Bay Young Republican Club.

"Baedeker is speaking to us at a time when the problems of rapid transit are demanding the public's attention," Clarence Turner, club president said. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Fish Shanty.

Turner said the speaker has a wide familiarity with the operations of government and business in Washington and Sacramento as well as in the four counties and 160 cities served by MTA. He represented MTA in Washington when the authority's program for rapid transit was presented to Congress.

He is now working with elected representatives to inform them of the rapid transit needs of the Los Angeles metropolitan area.
