

Auxiliary Junior Horse Show Scheduled Sunday

Las Amigas de Las Lomas, Rolling Hills Auxiliary to the Crippled Children's Guild of Orthopaedic Hospital, will sponsor its sixth annual one-day junior horse show at the Empty Saddle Riding Club next Sunday.

First of 23 events in three divisions for 18-year-olds and under will start at 8 a.m. and the show will include a maiden class for children who have not won a blue ribbon in American Horse Show Assn. competition.

Mrs. Edward Lyle, auxiliary president has announced judges will include Mike Manesco, hunters and jumpers; Bill Chambers, saddle horses; and Bill Corey, western.

Mrs. Harold Stutsman, horse show chairman for the past six years, has arranged for the AHSA (American Horse Show Assn.) medal classes and the Barbara Worth class, important classes for young equestrians working for their medals.

Mrs. Craig Kelford, auxiliary vice president, has arranged for booths stocked with picnic foods, sandwiches, light drinks and scones. Proceeds from sales will go to Orthopaedic Hospital.

Mrs. Loyd St. John, auxiliary board member, will be hostess at a post-show cocktail party in her home in Rolling Hills for auxiliary members and show officials.

The Los Angeles County mounted sheriff's posse from Lennox Station will present the colors and remain throughout the show.

Assisting with arrangements for the event are Mmes. Franklin Briles, B. R. Bryant, auxiliary treasurer; John McGinn, secretary; Jack Prentice, trophies; Theodore Robinson, program and printing, and Arthur Neyhart, chairman of the auxiliary's volunteer program at Orthopaedic Hospital.

Family Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Brown and sons, Steven and Mark, 2059 Reynosa Dr., returned home Sunday from a three weeks vacation. The family, all water skiing enthusiasts, spent the first part of their vacation at the Payette Lakes in Idaho. They then went to Ogden, Utah, for a visit with Mr. Brown's parents concluding their trip with a visit to Las Vegas.

Eastern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crossman, Craig and Candy, returned Wednesday to their home at 2143 Middlebrook Rd. from a three weeks vacation trip to New York and Vermont. In Rutland, Vermont, they were guests of Mr. Crossman's family. Visits to many historical places highlighted the trip for the travelers.

JUNIOR HORSEMANSHIP . . . In 23 events for 18 years and younger, horse lovers will compete in Sunday's show to be staged by the Las Amigas de Las Lomas Auxiliary to the Crippled Children's Guild of Orthopaedic hospital. The all-day event beginning at 8 a.m., will take place at the Empty Saddle Club in Rolling Hills. Two youthful competitors are, at left, Wendy Woodland on her horse "Night Raider" and, at right, Robin Lea Collins, daughter of the A. F. Collins, 24 Chuckwagon Rd., Rolling Hills, jumping her horse "Freeloader" at the Del Mar Park in 1962. All proceeds from the benefit will go to the Crippled Children's Guild.

YOUR PROBLEMS

by Ann Landers

'Only Safe Place, Under Lock, Key . . .'

Dear Ann Landers: Today is the saddest day of my life. I'm amazed that I can sit down and write a letter after what I've been through, but perhaps it will be good therapy.

This morning we buried my three-year-old niece, Betsy. She was a beautiful, bright-eyed darling with golden curls. Last week when we saw her at a family picnic she was full of fun and laughter. Everyone adored her.

Today Betsy is dead because her mother left a bottle of pills in the medicine cabinet. The little girl, thinking the pills were candy, ate every last one of them. My sister-in-law found Betsy lying unconscious on the floor and rushed her to the hospital but it was too late.

It is heartbreaking to lose a child through illness but to lose a child because of carelessness is too much to bear. Please print this letter for other mothers to read. It may save some precious young lives. — AUNT MAE

Dear Aunt Mae: It is baffling that some mothers will carry a sweater to school when the weather unexpectedly turns cold yet these same mothers will leave cleaning fluid in pop bottles, pill that look like candy on bathroom cabinet shelves and loaded guns in closets.

Every mother who is reading these words should check shelves, drawers and closets for potential instruments of death. Remember that a large bottle of aspirin, if taken all at once, can kill a child. Remember, too, that children can climb on chairs and wash basins, and reach top shelves. The only safe place for medicines (and guns) is under lock and key.

Thank you for writing, Aunt Mae. It's good to be reminded of what we think we already know.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 17 and going with a boy 19 who works in a minor capacity for my father. My father never liked Alex but he never told me I couldn't go out with him.

Last night Alex came by to take me to a baseball game. I was shocked when I saw him. His hair, which was always slicked back, had a definite curl. You might say it was actually kinky. I asked him what he did to it and he said his sister gave him a permanent.

My folks discussed Alex's hair this morning. My dad

Donna Rae Moore Becomes Bride of Harold Higgins

In a ceremony at Torrance First Lutheran Church, Miss Donna Rae Moore, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Metsker, 3305 Daisy Ave., Long Beach, and William Moore of San Pedro, became the bride of Harold Wyzon Higgins. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edith Higgins, 1462 Gulf Ave., Wilmington, and the late Charles Higgins.

For the mid-afternoon double-ring service, with Rev. William J. Roder officiating, church decorations were white stock and turquoise carnations in twin trumpet baskets, flanked with torchere candelabra holding slim white tapers.

The 200 guests were seated by Gary Chatterburn, Inglewood; George Flentye, Gardena and Robert Luxton, Lomita.

Accompanied by church organist Wayne Allen, Edward Palmer sang "My Task" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's gown, an Alfred Angelo original creation, was white organza over taffeta. The bodice of lace, enriched with seed pearls and aurore borealis sequins, had a portrait neckline and long, lily point sleeves.

The side fullness of its chapel-trained billowing bouffant skirt, worn over a hoop, was gathered in front with a cluster of sequins and pearls and edged with a wide lace ruffle.

The elbow-length illusion veil was held by a fluffy chiffon flower and seed pearl loops. Her bouquet was a cascade of white cymbidium orchids and stephanotis with satin streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Karen Lind; bridesmaids Miss Judy Hagan and Miss Carol Johnson, all of Torrance, and bridesmaid Mrs. Gail Luxton of Lomita, wore identically styled satin sheaths with peplum overskirts. Miss Lind was in turquoise; Miss Hagan, orchid; Miss Johnson, yellow; Mrs. Luxton, fuchsia.

Flower girl was Cynthia Luxton and Bobby Luxton was ring bearer.

A reception followed at the church with Miss Vicki Sharum registering the guests and Miss Molly Doyle in charge of the gift table.

The bride, a graduate of Torrance High and El Camino College, is majoring in education at Long Beach State
