

Torrance Wrestlers Determine EC Future

Seven former Torrance high school wrestlers will form the bulwark of a powerful team that is expected to carry El Camino College to a Metropolitan Conference and possibly state mat championships.

Dave Hengsteler, veteran Camino wrestling coach, will form the nucleus of his squad around two veterans.

Returning are Sam Garcia, a 130-pounder from South High who placed second in the state finals last year, and Torrance High's Dennis Albright, who finished fourth in the state 150-pound class.

Adding to Hengsteler's optimism is the expected mid-semester return of South High's Bob Anderson, defending state champ at 177 pounds.

"BOB WILL probably miss the UCLA and Cal Poly tournaments, plus two or three dual matches, but he will be the man to watch in the conference this season," Hengsteler commented.

In the 115-pound division, Rich Tamble, South Torrance, and Allan Nakamura, North High, shoulder the Warrior fortunes.

"BOTH OF these kids have tremendous ability and I would not be too surprised if they go all the way to the top," Hengsteler praised.

Tamble carries the finest prep credentials of all newcomers, having placed four consecutive years in the CIF championships.

TWO OTHER former Spartans hold instrumental roles in Hengsteler's planning. Raleigh Harris, a returning non-letterman, is the Tribe's lone entrant in the 137-pound division. Ken Blight, at 167 pounds, was one of the Bay League's toughest competitors last season.

"We lost two state champions — Don Holt and John Sowden — but if we can keep our current crop eligible, we will be tough," Hengsteler commented.

THE WARRIOR'S first match will be the annual skirmish with the alumni on Tuesday, Nov. 22. "We are going to beat the daylight out of those guys this season," Hengsteler warned.

Last year, El Camino lost the dual meet championship to Bakersfield by two points. Once again the Renegades and Cerritos College appear the class of the conference.

Former griddler Vic Lindskog has taken the helm at Bakersfield while former Hawthorne High coach Harold Simonek has moved to Cerritos.
