Tartar Teen Talk

By Pat Adams

Homecoming is just a memory now on the Torrance High campus. It ended with the coronation ball of Queen Sandra McElhose, following the game last Saturday night. The beauty of Queen Sandra and her court will remain a vivid picture in the minds of many.

The game, too, was exciting. The Tartars stayed on the heels of the Aviators eleven before falling, 12-0. Player-of-the-week honors went to Rene Ponce.

Hope all the alumni had a great time as did THIS student.

THE EXTRA curricular activities of students vary, but a common asset to any campus is the many after-school clubs and organizations. They have much to offer, depending on the special interests of the

Warriors Begin Work On Floats

Clubs and organizations at El Camino College are busy this week drawing up plans for the floats which will be entered in the annual homecoming competition.

The theme for this year's competition is "Fantasyland." Students normally work into the wee hours of the morning to put the finishing touches on their creations, leaving many so tired they never see the half-time ceremonies.

Larry Collins of Torrance, homecoming chairman, came up with a midnight curfew this year — meaning many of the students may see some of their own work at the game.

El Camino will celebrate homecoming with pre-game and halftime ceremonies Nov. 23 at Murdock Stadium.

Steak Dinner Planned by Area Knights

A steak dinner for wives and friends has been scheduled by members of the Torrance Knights of Columbus St. Gerard Council for the Nativity Parish Annex Monday evening, according to Grand Knight Charles Butterfield.

Planned for the evening is the dinner at $1.50 per plate following a 6 p.m. social hour. A special program featuring the "Living Rosary" and a series of games with prizes has been scheduled by Donald Whann, program chairman.

Reservations for the event should be made with Butterfield or dinner chairman Harold Pope by Sunday, it was reported.

Government Contracts Go To Two Firms

Contracts totaling $27,195 have been awarded to two Torrance firms by the Defense Supply Agency's electronics supply center at Dayton, Ohio. Carma Manufacturing Co., 1879 Mullin Ave., received an award of $17,115 for 210 rotary switches. Labor on the parts will be done at the Torrance plant.

Vernitron Corp., 1742 S. Crenshaw Blvd., was named to supply 120 control transformer synchros at a cost of $10,080. Work on the contract will be done at Vernitron's New York plant.

Trustees Meet At North High Monday Night

The Board of Education will meet at North High School Monday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The trustees meeting will be preceded by a short PTA meeting in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. William Cassida, president of the North High PTA, extended an invitation to members of the PTA and Torrance residents to attend the board meeting.

EC Students At Red Cross Annual Meet

Michael Henderson, John Druliner, Pearl Wong, and Carolyn Saenger of El Camino College were among more than 50 collegians representing schools in the Los Angeles area attending the Red Cross volunteer conference held in Antelope Valley.

Helping students gain practical humanitarian service experience is the goal of the Red Cross office of educational relations. Field representatives act as liaisons between the local Red Cross and faculty advisor who guide such activities.
