Portions of the Dominguez Channel which wind through Torrance, Gardena, Lawndale, Hawthorne and Inglewood should be completed by October, 1964, according to a progress report issued recently by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

It is the last link of a major span of the channel between International Airport and Vermont Avenue, near 176th St.

"The channel, designed to bring major relief to southwest Los Angeles county during heavy rains, should be completed from its headwaters near International Airport to its outlet into Los Angeles Harbor by the spring of 1966," Hahn said.
