Mike's Mailbag —

Dear Mr. C.: I just finished reading Betty Smith's "Joy in the Morning." It's not as good as her "Tree Grows in Brooklyn" but I still think it would make a good movie because it's CLEAN and something we need to offset the sick, evil sex films they've been sending us. —Raymond J. Loeber, Rexburg, Idaho.

Dear Betty: He quit it (it's a touch-and-go racket) for something more substantial. He's now designing lady's dresses, including Ziva Rodann's wardrobe for her new role as "Princess Ada," Bill Shatner's leading lady in Albert McCleery's series, "Alexander the Great." (Aside to Carole Engle of Frackville, Pa.: This will answer your question about Shatner.)

Dear Raymond: Metro thinks so too. The studio has assigned producer Henry Weinstein to prepare it for The Temples of Shades. It will probably star Jeanne Bal, now under contract to Metro-TV for the "Mr. Novak" series.

Sir: Is the late President Kennedy's "vacation home" in Palm Springs — the one owned by Bing Crosby — still for sale? — Phil Ashland, Glendale, Ariz.

Dear Sir: Are Negro stars still playing the South, with all that hullabaloo still going on down there? — Mrs. A. L. McArthur, Woods Hole, Mass.

Dear Phil: Bing has taken it off the market and says it will remain his family's home in Southern California during the winter months. During the rest of the year he and Kathy and the kids will live in Hillsboro in Northern California. Like Shirley Temple Black, he feels it's better to raise a family up there instead of around the movie studios.

Dear Mrs. McArthur: Some are, some aren't. Sammy Davis Jr. just agreed to star at Miami's top social soiree of 1963: the Heart Ball, Dec. 20, at the Deauville Hotel.

Dear Mike: You wrote that Mae West told Hal Wallis she would co-star with Elvis Presley in "Roustabout" if Wallis would rewrite her part — from Elvis' mother to his sweetheart. PLEASE help me down from this cliff I've been hanging onto. What's the decision? — Ronnie Love, Berkeley, Calif.

Dear Mike: There you go, talking about this year's Oscar possibilities again. Why bother? I have always thought the Academy Awards were crooked ever since Elizabeth Taylor won for "Butterfield 8." Everybody knows she got it because she was ill a month or so before. And, after Katherine Hepburn didn't get it for "Long Day's Journey into Night," I KNEW they were crooked. G'bye. — Everett Palmer, Farmington, Ill.

Dear Ronnie: Hal says yes; Elvis and his manager, Col. Tom Parker, say no.

Dear Mike C.: Enjoy your column and would like an answer to this one. Is Merle Oberon's real name O'Brien and, if so, where is she from originally? — Pattye Talbert, Covina, Calif.

Composer Plans College Lecture

Dr. Ernest Kanitz, American composer, will present "The Meaning of Music" Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., Science Building, Marymount College.

Third in a series of eight titled "Music and Its Listeners in Our Time," Dr. Kanitz will illustrate his lecture with portions of recordings, piano and visual materials. Admission is without charge.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Part of the enduring young charm of a baby is his (or her) helplessness. (Makes one feel so protective.) Take the matter of noise. Regular household sounds won't jar your baby, asleep or awake. Learning to live in a world of normal noise is an adjustment he must eventually make and the earlier he becomes accustomed to those noises the better. P.S. Naturally, loud jarring noises, like door slams, etc. should be avoided.

babies favor. For baby's nutritional well-being, they're enriched with iron, calcium, B-vitamins.

Why force the issue? Babies rarely overeat except when pushed by an over-zealous mother... and when so pushed often develop a dislike for a food that may be hard to overcome. By the same token, babies who are left to eat, not made to eat, rarely undereat. May be hard to believe but babies do seem to know their own needs.

Dietary variety data. Good eating habits are formed early... and introduction of variety at an early age lays the foundation for future good eating habits. Easy way to introduce your darling to the delights of different cereal flavors (usually baby's first solid food): Gerber Cereal Sixes. This handy sextette contains small-size boxes of Rice Cereal, Barley, Mixed Cereal, High Protein Cereal and two Oatmeal. Each has its own bland but distinctive flavor... all have the dreamy, creamy texture

Nutrition additions. As baby advances toward a full food schedule, variety becomes important, not only from the standpoint of good eating habits but to give baby the many different nutrients he needs. Gerber offers a flavorful assortment of strained foods. Over 50 choices, including fruits, vegetables, meats, dinners, juices, egg yolks and desserts to meet all your baby's nutritive needs. Gerber Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

Do you suppose you could?

There's no reason why not. Just try it. Try serving avocados from California with canned fruit cocktail. It's a new way to a memorable luncheon. Make a fruit mold: Add canned fruit cocktail (drain first) and avocado slices to lemon gelatin. Chill — and it's a salad. Sounds easy? Tastes easy, too.
