

CARSON PARK . . . Youngsters are not waiting until the official dedication Saturday morning to put into use Carson Neighborhood Park, 21411 S. Orrick Ave., just east of Main Street and north of Carson. Ceremonies Saturday are scheduled for 10:15. The park features a play area for children, recreation-activity building, baseball diamond and a vast expanse of green grass. (Herald Photo)

Carson Lists Decoration Categories

Five categories have been outlined for the Carson Chamber of Commerce Christmas decorating contest, it has been announced by Sak Yamamoto, chairman of the event. Individuals and organizations will have until midnight, Dec. 16, to enter one of the five categories, Yamamoto said. Categories which will be judged include:

- Grand award—original display including traditional, religious, original theme, or combination themes.
- Traditional displays.
- Commercial displays.
- Mobile home displays.

Entries should be submitted to Yamamoto at 21900 S. Martin St., he said. Judging will be held during the evenings of Dec. 19-21.

Supervisors Okay Carson Variance

County Regional Planning Commission this week approved a variance for Clyde J. Fahy, 22438 S. Meyler St., for a remodeled marker at that address. The variance was granted to permit the non-conforming use in an A-1 land use zone.

Count Learns Best Way To Sleep in Strange Bed

Depend on me to ferret out any information I feel is important enough to pass on to you even if it means trespassing into the chambers of no-man's land, the beauty salon.

While I waited in the fabulous Room of the Golden Buddhas of Mai Tai's House of Beauty for Nell Rankin, reigning mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, who had just flown in to attend a party at Gualtiero Bartolini's town house, I decided now was as good a time as ever to ask her a few questions whose answers I could then pass on to you.

I moved into the inner sanctum, where her hairdresser, Larry Coffee, was putting the final

by Count Marco

touches to her comb-out, and asked Nell about sleeping in strange beds.

So many of you American women have the problem, judging by your letters, of not sleeping soundly or lying awake fretting about your loss of sleep after one of your so-called busy days.

How then, I wondered, would a person such as Nell Rankin, in spite of her heavy world-wide schedule of concert and operatic appearances manage to sleep comfortably? Because obviously she does, judging from her glowing complexion, her Alabama charm and her even disposition.

Her busy schedule requires her to rush from airport to airport, from city to city, and a different bed each time.

Nell feels that the biggest worry women have about sleeping is not sleeping. When she first started her travels she worried constantly about not sleeping, fretting away the wakeful hours, worrying over how the lack of sleep would affect her voice and appearance the following day.

While in Vienna on a concert tour at a party she mentioned her lack of sleep. One of Vienna's noted specialists overheard her and gave the following advice.

"Stop worrying about not being able to sleep. The worry is what prevents you from sleeping. Just keep in mind that so long as your body rests it is recovering from fatigue. Lying in a prone position is resting."

He pointed out that as the body relaxes it causes your mind to rest. And your mind can't rest until your body rests first.

If you toss and turn, don't worry. It keeps the limbs from going numb and aids the circulation.

A warm but not hot bath with perfumed bath oil is a marvelous sleep inducer. Sleep on a firm mattress rather than one that lets your body sink in. "But most of all," says Nell, "let Nature take its course. Stop worrying."

'64 Pontiac

Here's why you'll like it.

Here's why you'll tell other people you like it.

Wide-Track, for instance. Wide-Track is what does away with tilting your way around turns. Pontiac's smoother, quieter ride is another thing you might point out. A big 389-cubic-inch Trophy V-8 is standard in each and every Pontiac. You get to choose from 34 engine/transmission teams to harness all that power. (Happy choosing!)

Now then—on to more of the things that make the '64 Pontiac so thoroughly likeable. Frankly, we couldn't think of anything radical to do with this car. Oh, we made the styling even more stylish, as you can plainly see. We lavished even more care on the interiors. We even improved the light bulbs. But as for more vital things, why change? Improve, refine, sharpen—yes. Change—no. And you can tell that to your friends.
