

ENTERTAINMENT AND DINING GUIDE

PLACE YOUR ORDER . . . The new Bob's Coffee Shop, 18120 Hawthorne Blvd., adjacent to the South Bay Shopping Center, opened this week to offer shoppers and other residents of the Southwest the excellent food and service synonymous with the chain's 18 other Southland restaurants. The $151,000 project features an interior of warm colors, stone and large expanses of glass. Customers comments are invited, and many of Bob's specials today originated as ideas jotted down by customers on the back of a sales check.

Rec Center To Present Two Movies

The Torrance Recreation Department will present "The Great Victor Herbert" tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the center, 3341 Torrance Blvd.

Two showings of "Of Time, Work and Leisure" are scheduled before and after the musical at 7 and 9:30 p.m.

Cosponsored by the Los Angeles County Museum Film Circuit, the story of Herbert's life will feature many musical excerpts from his operettas such as "The Viceroy," "Babes in Toyland," "Naughty Marietta" and "Sweethearts." Stars are Allen Jones and Mary Martin. Walter Connolly portrays Victor Herbert.

"Of Time, Work and Leisure" delves into life in the future concerning man's working time, and whether man is ready to accept increased hours of free time. It is the work of Sebastian de Grazia, author of the book of the same title.

The de Grazia film will be presented also at the Recreation Leaders In-Service meeting Saturday at 8:30 a.m.

There is no admission charge for these showings.

SOMBRERO MARKS THE CANTINA . . . Bob Earle of The Red Onion Restaurant in Peninsula Center will celebrate the official opening of the Cantina at this popular dining spot tonight. On hand to welcome new friends and old will be Professor A. Ancona, guitarist, and the Red Onion marimba players. The Cantina will feature "late, late" entertainment on the weekends until 2 a.m.

The curtain will close on Chapel Theatre's current run of "The Desperate Hours" after the performance Saturday evening.

The Joseph Hayes drama concerning a family held captive by escaped convicts features Phil DiGioia, John Sanchez, Bob Lohbauer, Paul Teschke and Darlene Chafee. Other cast members are: Ron Albertson, Larry Worch, Austin Rheinhold, Royce Derby, Linda McNeill and Lee Ellsworth.

Backstage crew includes: Rudi Medina, Sharon Monteleone, Judy Matte, George Bingham, Dick Obert, and Phyllis Palmer. Lou Brunke directed and Lynda Gorchester served as producer.

Reservations for tomorrow and Saturday evenings are available at the box office, FR 2-9636.

Clair R. Waterman's exhibit of all-mosaic paintings are on exhibit in the auditorium through the play's run. The works are not for sale but the artist will take orders for duplicates or original designs.

June Lusk Nelson, El Camino Music instructor, will appear in a piano concert tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in the Campus Theater.

Numbers scheduled for the recital are Haydn's Andante can variations in F minor, von Weber's Perpetual Motion, Beethoven's Sonata Quasi una Fantasia, Opus 27 No. 1 in E flat major.

Also slated are 12 works by Claude Debussy. Among these are "Brouillards," "Fouilles Mortes," and "La Puerta del Vino."

The concert is without admission charge.

Joe and Eddie, young singing team to appear at the fourth annual junior class show at South High School March 7, at 8 p.m., received their first big break on the Don Sherwood TV show in San Francisco.

They have performed also at the Bay City's "Purple Onion" and "The Hungry I." Future bookings include the "Crescendo" in Hollywood and New York City's "Blue Angel."

Home Savings Will Exhibit Award Works

Twelve award-winning paintings from previous Los Angeles All-City Outdoor Art Festivals will go on exhibit today at the Torrance branch of Home Savings and Loan Assn. The display will continue through March 10.

The paintings, including oils, lithographs and watercolors, represent some of the best works purchased by Home Savings during the 11 years the financial firm has sponsored the annual art show, according to Jerome B. Scott, Torrance branch manager.
