boxed singular or in pairs — ready for "Mom," on Mother's Day. Exquisitely styled in gold or spun brass frames they will capture a delicate effect. La Mode Furniture, 1513 Cabrillo Avenue . . . your doorway to a new home.

Here's a glorious "hurrah" for Mom! Levy's Department Store, 1311 Sartori Avenue, recently received a shipment of the new sheer Bembergs, especially for Mother's Day. Of a print or floral design each dress is absolutely the most perfect Mother's Day gift, as Levy's made sure they ordered plenty of sizes. In addition, check the Butcher and rayon linens . . . the Chambrays styled in one or two piece frocks . . . and an abundance of long and short sleeved blouses. Levy's Department Store, for the "well-dressed" circle, at 1311 Sartori Avenue.

MOTHER'S DAY is drawing nearer. Lots of folks have had a portrait made as a gift for this memorable occasion. Plenty of time for you to do the same, but don't "last minute shop." Stop by at the PHOTO ARTS STUDIO, 1520 Cravena Avenue.

interrupted his career. His tour of army duty took him overseas for thirteen months to drive supply trucks to the firing lines. Moving supplies at night over light torn roads, unable to use shells was a chapter in his life he will never forget. At the conclusion of the war he returned to take over the traveling position which had been filled by his father. In the years to follow he operated several widely different enterprises and was an outstanding success in each. His business operations included ranching, salvage of buildings, retail lumber, a recreation center several ventures in real estate. In 1948 he was enticed out of retirement to head up the sales department of Green Hills. He is a member of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Toastmasters, American Legion (Torrance Post 170). He is a Mason, 32nd, Shriner and a member of the Eastern Star and the Baptist Church. His charming wife was Jane Warren of Pawnee City, Neb., prior to their marriage there on April 14, 1917. She is a member of the Womens Club, Lioness Club and Eastern Star. Walls finds relaxation in billiards, any kind of fishing, music and his television set. He reports that Green Hills has had a most gratifying reception and has already had almost three hundred interments to date which is most unusual for a memorial park as young as Green Hills.

Frank Dominguez

oldest of nine children, his work was important to his family. His first job was with the Hammond Lumber Company, after which he was associated with a large wholesale grocery company at Los Angeles as order clerk. His next position as the delivery man for a Wilmington meat market and later he worked there as a route salesman for a dairy company. The following six years were spent with the International Market at Wilmington as manager. After the repeal of prohibition, Dominguez was engaged in the distribution of beer as a partner in the operation. After selling his interests in Wilmington he entered the food business in Torrance as a partner in the D and B Market. He disposed of that business in 1939 to accept employment with El Prado Furniture Store, starting as floor salesman and advancing to assistant manager and finally manager of the business in 1942.

His beautiful and complete new furniture store celebrated its opening recently. His charming wife, nee Fern Gettman, is a native of North Dakota. The couple was married at San Pedro August 19, 1927. Their son, Frank G., Jr., is a student at Santa Barbara State College majoring in education. Their daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Moore, resides in Torrance and their youngest son, William R. (Bill), is a student at El Camino. Dominguez is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Southern California Retail Furniture Dealers Association and the Methodist Church. His hobbies, which he indulges as often as business permits, are golf, beach sports, fresh water fishing, his garden and television.

Each residence will have a glass back wall for the living room, a patio with redwood fence, a backyard surrounded by a wire fence, an automatic washer and other modern features.

In addition, the homes will be landscaped, and streets through the new development will be paved, Lawson said.

Designed by University of Southern California architecture students, the homes will sell for $7950 and $8550.

Enjoyed by Pandoras

WALTERIA — Pandoras entertained their husbands and guests last Thursday evening with an old-fashioned farm party, which was held at the Recreation Hall. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. George Powell, and Mrs. Frank Stevens.

Decorations carried out the farm motif, with kerosene lanterns and straw hats picturesquely arranged about the room. Refreshments were "Egg on Toast" deserts made from apricots, whip cream and cake.

Winners of the games included Hog calling, Dick Wood; Cigarette rolling contest won by Ronald Taylor, and musical chairs won by Mrs. Robert Ziske. A barbershop quartet contest was also enjoyed.

Guests of honor included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Gee Kendrick, and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Powell.

Highlight of the evening occurred when the Walteria masterlight switch was pulled by mistake, giving an enjoyable reason for employing the kerosene lanterns.

condition is a detriment to adjoining residential properties, whereas it has been and can be a credit to these areas and to the City as a whole, as it is the first view of Torrance city park system which obtained by visitors who come into the area from the beach section on Torrance Boulevard, or from the metropolitan section, on Crenshaw boulevard.

It is expected that petitions will be presented to the Council at the next regular meeting.

China Painting Class Expands

The free adult china painting class held each Wednesday night at the Torrance Evening High school is expanding its course of study to fit into the needs of the community.

Mrs. Edna Inslee, instructor of the class, has announced that she will now take up enameling, lusters and application of gold to ceramics pieces. Etching will be demonstrated in detail, and a naturalistic and conventional design will be studied.

Emphasis in the class will be placed on utility pieces — those things that are brought from home, such as mixing bowls, plates, and trays. Both beginning and advanced students will find a place in the class for their own speed and according to their own background. The class works closely with the ceramics class, which is conducted by Mr. Clifford Inslee in the adjoining room.

Those desiring to enter the class are asked to register immediately in Room 207 of the high school on Wednesday night at 6:45 o'clock.

P-TA President To Be Honored

WALTERIA—Thursday will be the last regular PTA board meeting under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Ziske.

Board members will meet for a potluck luncheon at the Recreation Hall, and will honor Mrs. Ziske's services for the past year with the presentation of a lovely string of pearls.

Community Wide Flower Show Plans Launched

LOMITA.—Plans for a community-wide flower show were launched at a gathering of committee members at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Trunnell, 25322 Oak street.

Sponsored by the Lomita area branch of the California Fuchsia Society and the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation, the show is expected to draw entries from many points of the Southland.

Mrs. George D. Hunt, chairman, led a discussion of rules governing the event to be held June 24 and 25 in the Community Building in the park. "Lomita Beautiful" was the theme chosen by the group.

Entertainment for the spectators will include a county band and colored slides of the newest Fuchsia introductions.

Committees appointed were Mrs. Roy Trunnell, specimen blooms; Mrs. Blanche Tempksi, cut flowers; Mrs. Gwen Trefethen and Mrs. C. O. Elpper, potted plants; Mrs. Ann Sheldon, school exhibits; Mrs. Glenn Shekell, hanging baskets; Mrs. Helen Garcia, commercial exhibits, and Mrs. Jack McKinnel, poultry.

Jim Fairclo, Fuchsia grower of Gardena, was present. Others attending were club president, John Ericson, and Mrs. Ericson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Winner, Mrs. J. Bailey, Mrs. Raymond Lee, Bob Smith, Roy Trunnell and Jack McKinnel.

Leathercraft Class Open

The leathercraft and copper tooling class at the Torrance Evening High school, held each Thursday night at 6:30, has openings for several more students, according to John Cavanagh, instructor.

Students are now working on low cost items including pocket-books, belts, wallets, key purses, and watch bands. No previous experience is required in this class and students can receive individual instruction on getting started on their projects.

Mr. Cavanagh points out that the class is at a convenient place for the entrance of new students. Students are urged to attend the next meeting of the class on Thursday night at 6:30 in Room 208 of the Torrance High school.
