

3500 Expected To Enroll At El Camino

With registration scheduled to be held September 11, 12, and 13, at El Camino College an enrollment in excess of 3500 students is expected.

Approximately 450 different courses are available to day and evening students during the Fall semester according to H. J. Sheffield, Director of Student Personnel.

Courses which are offered on a tuition free basis to high school graduates or to any person above the age of 18 regardless of high school graduation include: shorthand, accounting, office machines, business law, auto body and fender, auto mechanics, welding, machine shop, refrigeration, radio, television, peace officer training, agriculture, psychology, economics, philosophy, political science, Spanish, french, german and many classes in art and mechanical drafting.

Classes are so arranged that people who are employed full time can still carry a number of college subjects during after work hours in a maximum of 4 evenings of work. According to Sheffield, El Camino College with its planning of night classes, offers a chance for adults who have always wanted to go to college to obtain their college program now.

Students will report for registration during the three-day period according to an alphabetical surname schedule. Students whose last names begin with the letters "A" through "E" will report at 8:00 o'clock on Monday, September 11. "F" through "K" surname students will report at 10:00 o'clock, while those whose last names begin with "L" through "N" will report at 1:00 o'clock on Monday.

On Tuesday, September 12, surnames "O" through "S" will report at 8:00 o'clock, while surnames "T" through "Z" will report at 10:00 o'clock.

On Wednesday, September 13, all students who were not able to register on Monday or Tuesday will be registered, beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

"All students must register during the registration period. This includes students previously enrolled in the college, whether or not they partially completed their registration at the end of last semester, and all new students. To insure getting into the classes they need or want, it is highly advisable for students to register at the proper time according to their surname," Mr. Harmon stated.
