Don Blanding Lectures Tonight for Bldg. Fund

Don Blanding, internationally known writer, artist and world traveler will occupy the platform tonight at the Church of Religious Science, 501 South Grevelia avenue, instead of the regular mid-week healing service. The $1 admission is donated to the church building fund.

Friday evening at 8 the Men's club meets at 325 West Buckhorn street for its bi-monthly discussion class.

Sunday morning junior and senior church services are held currently at 11 a.m. Mr. Longe's subject will be "How to Erase False Thinking." Ample facilities are available for children of all ages in the children's church.

Tuesday morning at 10:30 a.m. the Women's Discussion group meets at 1019 East Fairview boulevard under the leadership of Hazel Longe. All women are invited.

First El Camino Classroom Unit Now in Use

Students now are using the first completed classroom unit at El Camino college. The nine-classroom social science unit, facing Crenshaw boulevard, also houses faculty offices. A second classroom and administration building now is under construction.

At a recent meeting of the board of trustees, Forrest G. Murdock, president of the college, presented an analysis of building needs which the trustees will consider in planning future buildings.

Current construction work, which includes the campus center building, street area lighting, street improvements, and underground electrical distribution systems is proceeding at fair speed, Murdock said.
