A WHIRLWIND — Robert Karstens, center of the Boston Whirlwind basketball team that will appear in Compton's Decker gym on the junior college campus Saturday night at 8 p.m. The Whirlwinds face the New York Rens in the opening game of a double-header series featuring the famous Harlem Globetrotters.

GLOBETROTTER — Marques Haynes, outstanding guard on the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, will play in Compton junior college's Decker gym Saturday night. The Trotters face the Philadelphia Sphas in the feature game of a double-header beginning at 8 p.m.

Tartars Gain Fourth Bay League Victory

By DAVE SCHALL
The Tartars went to work on El Segundo very early last Friday evening and piled up a 44 to 21 defeat for El Segundo. The defeat of the Eagles marked the fourth Bay League victory for the Tartars. All in all, the Tartars have had a rough season of 5 wins and 9 losses.

Torrance was strong in both defense and offense. Defense consisted of two men, out, and three, in. This defense so far has startled most opposing teams.

Bill Baron and Aramis Dan-joy of Torrance scored a total of 24 points all together. Bill put in 14 and Aramis 10. For the last few weeks, Aramis has not been able to score more than 10 points in any one game.

Coach Cliff Graybehl's only thing to say, "Well, they're looking like a ball club."

The Bees really had a tough time last Friday evening. Nevertheless, they defeated El Segundo 33 - 27. The hardship was due to the fact that almost the entire Bee first string was out of the game due to injuries and ineligibilities. Almost everyone got a chance to play.

The game was fairly even during the first half, but during the last half Torrance pulled ahead and upped the lead. Jerry Farrar of Torrance scored 11 points to capture the high point honor for Torrance. However, Adams of El Segundo scored a total of 17 points.

With the attendance at the ball games very poor, everyone is urged to come out and back their home team the Tartars.

The Tartar Cee's went to work on El Segundo to defeat them 34 - 13 last Friday evening. This was the fourth Bay League win for the Cee's.

The Philadelphia Sphas, a highly-talented all-star college quintet, will contest the supremacy of the Trotters in the feature tilt while the New York Rens and Boston Whirlwinds tangle in the preliminary. The Whirlwinds and Rens along with the Sphas, are outstanding eastern professional teams.

Internationally famous vaudeville acts will highlight the between halves and between games entertainment.

Each year the experts believe the pulsating Globetrotters have reached the greatest heights a basketball team can attain. It doesn't seem possible that even the Trotters, famed everywhere in the world for doing the unexpected, can continually surpass the achievements of the previous season. But they do.

They have played in North Africa, Paris and the Hawaiian Islands in recent months. No basketball team in history can come anywhere near matching the Globetrotters' exploits of last season—namely winning 151 out of 153 games during their regular season, sweeping the Cuban Invitational tournament at Havana, beating the U. S. College All-Stars 11 games to 7 in a coast to coast tour, and finally invading Europe and North Africa. While in these two spots they won 72 of 73 games against the Stars of America, a group of college and professional players of top caliber selected for the tour.

Tickets for Saturday's game in Compton may be purchased at Woody's Sporting Goods Store, 127 North Tamarind street, Compton. Tickets are also on sale at Compton junior college business office and Parkes' Sporting Goods Store in North Long Beach at South and Orange streets. All seats are reserved. A limited seating capacity of 1500 in Decker gym will limit the expected crowd with an overflow through anticipated.

El Camino Gains Two Conference Triumphs

El Camino's casbahans rolled to their fifth and sixth Metropolitan Conference victories over the past weekend, hammering Santa Monica 60 to 47, Friday Eve on the loser's court, and coming right back to smote down Harbor's Seahawks 58 to 52 the following night on the El Camino hardwood. Wins were El Camino's third and fourth straight in league play.

Center Bob Flanagan paced the Warrior scorers in both fracas' by potting 26 digits against the Corsairs, and 18 markers in the Harbor skirmish.

In a non-conference tilt Saturday, February 3, El Camino entertains the powerful Ventura Pirate five, Western States Conference leaders rated the No.
