

High School Students to Visit College

About 50 to 60 Torrance High School seniors will be among students from eight neighboring high schools to attend El Camino College's first visiting day in its history, Friday, May 11th, according to Principal John Steinbaugh.

Other visiting schools are El Segundo, Inglewood, Leuzinger and Redondo, Mount Carmel, Washington and Gardena.

Highlighting the program for the day will be a play festival in which each of the visiting schools will present a one act play. The plays chosen are El Segundo, "A Rocky Woging;" Mount Carmel, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do;" Leuzinger, "Riders to the Sea;" Torrance, "The Happy Journey;" Inglewood, "Fumed Oak," and Washington, "A Wedding."

After the plays are presented the participants will attend a banquet in the Campus Center. The speaker of the evening will be Kenneth MacCowan, chairman of the department of theater arts at UCLA. He will speak on "Various Phases of Educational Theater."

City Casualty Stations Set

Casualty stations are now being organized in the three districts of Torrance, it was announced this week by George Powell, assistant director of Civilian Defense.

One station will be at the Seaside School, a second at the Torrance High School and the third at the North Torrance Elementary School. These stations will be operated under the direction of Dr. Kurt Shery in the event of an emergency.

Blond Found Stuffed in Attic

Yesterday evening a blond was found stuffed in the attic of Mrs. Norton's home on Cabrillo Ave. The blond, with both arms missing, was first discovered by Mrs. Norton who immediately called in Mr. Jack Vinik, local neighbor, to investigate. He promptly glued the arms back on. Later he took the stuffed blond piece of furniture to his place of business, Torrance Upholstering Co., for reupholstering... workmanship guaranteed. Mr. Vinik says, "We never loaf but we have loafees (low fees)." Remember the phone please—Torrance 1157, and the address 1927 West Carson Street, near Five Points. It's an ad.
