WEST COAST OPERATION

Pittsburgh Plate's new Torrance operation will be under the management of D. A. Wagen, West Coast divisional director for the firm. He was in charge of the Los Angeles plant which until its recent closing had been in operation since 1925. The office area will provide space not only for normal plant operations but includes facilities for housing sales, accounting, and purchasing personnel of Pittsburgh's West Coast plant organization.

Albert C. Martin and Associates, Los Angeles, were architects and engineers while preliminary design for the new plant was by Pittsburgh Paint Division design specialists under the supervision of Percy E. Knudsen, MacMen, Inc., was general contractor. Other contractors include R. R. Jones Electric Company, electric wiring; Johnson and Washer, plumbing; and J. Herman Company, heating and ventilating.

In addition to the Torrance plant, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, one of the nation's major paint manufacturers, operates paint and varnish manufacturing plants at Milwaukee, Cleveland, Detroit, Dayton, Houston, Newark, Pittsburgh, Portland, Oregon, Springfield, Pennsylvania; and four subsidiary plants in Canada.
