

First Store of New Market Chain Open in Harbor City

Now open is the first store of a new chain of markets, Clock Market, located at 1515 Pacific Coast Highway, Harbor City. Manager of the newly opened market, Bill Tennant, has announced that a large and varied selection of groceries will be at the market for the convenience of shoppers. Budget minded housewives will also be happy to note the "frozen" food locker in the store as well as the wide selection of produce.

Also thinking of those "working" housewives with little or no time to do their daily marketing, Tennant has spent much time classifying the various grocery aisles in the market with easy to find markers.

Shoppers will have no parking worry when they do their marketing at The Clock Market as ample parking facilities have been provided.

Tennant, who has been in the market business since 1925, has had wide experience in market-management with several large firms for many years. For the past five years, he has operated his own markets in Long Beach and Los Angeles. Also connected with the business is Johnny Womack, who has had about four years experience in the grocery business.

Local Residents Urged to Attend Fair Business Show

Torrance area residents engaged in small business will find the "Aids to Small Business Show" at the 1951 California State Fair at Sacramento, August 30 through September 9 of exceptional interest, Winona Ellis, manager of the Torrance office of the California Department of Employment, said today.

"This year's Small Business Show," Mrs. Ellis said, "will emphasize managerial techniques which will enable California small business to make the maximum contribution to the defense economy." The show will be conducted in the Little Theater, Governor's Hall, at the fairgrounds.

Officials from the National Production Authority and the Office of Price Stabilization and other experts will be present to provide personal counseling from 1 to 5 p.m. daily through September 7. In addition to counseling which will be available, exhibits will show how their sponsors have used facilities and resources native to various California areas to develop successful enterprises which contribute to local economics and which, in many instances, can convert to defense production in the national interest, Mrs. Ellis said.

Each morning, the bureau of business education of the state department of education will conduct sales training clinics. The show will end with a working conference to foster the development of self-employment, scheduled for 10:15 a.m., Saturday, September 8, Women's Day at the Fair, in the Little Theater under the auspices of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Zonta International, and Soroptimist International Association.

The working conference will review the year's accomplishments in the matter of stimulating increased self-employment for women in California and, through panel discussions and workshop groups, discuss means of furthering the program during the coming year.

Torrance Girls Compete in Talent Quest

Janeene Colombo and Grace Lafferty, two lovely Torrance artists, are continuing their musical careers in true showman spirit despite setbacks in the Junior Jubilee talent quest.

Miss Colombo, 13, one of the 96 semi-finalists named from two auditions held at Normandie playground, performed Wednesday, Aug. 22, at the Philharmonic auditorium in competition with 48 city finalists for an MGM screen test and one year's free scholarship to the University of Southern California.

The grand prize went to a brother and sister dancing team—Connie, 11, and Richard Vera, 8, of Los Angeles—who danced in colorful Mexican costumes. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Colombo, 1751 Arlington ave., played "Rhapsody in Blue" for Judges Alfred Wallenstein, Dore Scharly, Ginny Simms, Virginia Mayo and LeRoy Prinz.

Miss Lafferty, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lafferty, 1816 Arlington ave., reached the semi-finals at Normandie after competing with more than 500 amateurs between the ages of 5 and 18 years. She sang "Ziguerne" from "Bittersweet."

The tickets are available at the two locations of Ben Cluff Dairies, 2 blocks south of Carson St. on Avalon blvd., Wilmington, and on Figueroa st., 2 blocks south of Gardena blvd., Gardena.

Hoppyland is located at 400 W. Washington st., Venice, Calif. The tickets are good for every day of the week, with the exception of Monday, when Hoppyland is closed.
