

"Remember Me, Mac?"

"I was on the front pages about six months ago.

"No, you didn't see my name, because it wasn't there. The story was about my outfit and some trouble we ran into on a mountain in Korea.

"Well, I'm not on the front page any more. My front-line fighting is over. I'm strictly a hospital case. But they tell me my biggest battle is still ahead . . . the battle for my life."

* * * * *

Quietly, doggedly, the painstaking job of rebuilding broken bodies goes on . . . in hospitals abroad and at home, wounded fighting men will need your blood as desperately as when they first fell on some foreign field. Yet, because the war news may be off the front page, blood donations dwindle disastrously . . . become a thin trickle, imperil the life line of thousands of your men.

Remember this about the war news: tomorrow may bring its new Iron Triangle, its new flare-up in Korea. So the need is twofold . . . it is for the men who have already fallen and for the men who will be injured in future combat. Please help them. Give your blood. Give it today.
