Illegal Settling Basin Halted in Pacific Hills

Residents of Pacific Hills will suffer the problems arising from Torrance Sand and Gravel Company's settling basin for less than 90 days as a result of a court decision last week.

Operators of the gravel company were told to move the illegal settling basin back onto the hill away from the home of residents of the Hills.

The City of Torrance filed suit against the firm when it was established that an original variance granted by the city had been violated.

Attorney Donald Armstrong represented the city in the action.

The U. S. in our opinion should treat other nations, big and little, as justly as possible; if this fails to produce peaceful relations, we should be prepared to defend our rights against any and all encroachments.
