JUVENILE VANDALS—Serious damage is being suffered by Torrance homeowners due to the vandalism of local youths. Last week mischievous teen-agers struck at the home of Mrs. John Murray, 1912 Andree ave., and tipped over and broke two large ornamental flower pots, above, standing alongside the walk. Mrs. Murray expressed concern over this growing problem and added the hope that something could be done to check it before it gets out of hand.

Ask the Man Who Knows About the New Calcinator

"Too good to pass up," said Jim Lawson, of 1912 Arlington Ave., with regard to the new fully automatic garbage and trash disposal, the Calcinator.

"I sell the new Calcinator and I know its quality. The first Calcinator we got in the store sold me on them completely, and now I have one in my home," he states.

And Lawson knows. He's co-owner of the Liberty Home Economy Co., 1623 Cravens ave., exclusive South Bay distributors of the modern home convenience.

For the answer to all garbage and trash disposal problems, Lawson recommends the Calcinator: The gleaming white disposal unit effectively destroys all food matter and all other materials, except glass and metal, by the process of first dehydrating, then burning them completely.

A tiny gas flame is the heart of this wonderful household appliance. The Calcinator cabinet is built in such a fashion that currents of air heated by the small gas flame draw all moisture from waste and garbage. The refuse then burns completely.

Streamlined in design with Chromium trim on white enamel, the unit harmonizes completely with other kitchen equipment. Since there is no motor, in fact, no moving parts, there is no worry about the noiseless unit breaking down.

The Calcinator may be installed in kitchen, utility room, basement, beside the home heating unit, or even outside the house.

Shell Plant 'No Accident' Record Told

Shell Chemical employees at the Torrance butadiene plant recently completed two years and 68 days of operation without a lost-time accident, according to Maarten Voogd, plant manager.

This is the equivalent of 51 years without an accident in the home of the average family of four persons, Voogd said.

At the Torrance plant where butadiene, one of the major components of synthetic rubber, is manufactured, the safety program is handled entirely by a committee of 15 employees who meet once a month to process safety suggestions. To date they have received 116 suggestions from employees, adopting all but two.

Completion of the safety record by the plant's 375 employees marks the 800th accident-free day, or the equivalent of 1,660,287 man-hours, since the butadiene plant was re-activated in Dec., 1950.

Fire Damages Strip Warehouse

Fire swept through a vacant warehouse in the Shoestring Strip Tuesday afternoon causing severe damage to the building, according to the Los Angeles fire dept.

Three engines under acting Battalion Chief F. Furman extinguished the blaze, the cause of which was undetermined.

No estimate of the damage has been made, but city arson experts are investigating now, it was reported.

The warehouse belongs to the United Concrete Pipe Co., the fire dept. disclosed.
