

Mark Twain

Adam was but human—this explains it all. He did not want the apple for the apple's sake, he wanted it only because it was forbidden. The mistake was in not forbidding the serpent; then he would have eaten the serpent.

Pleasant words are a honey-comb, sweet to the spirit, and healthful to the body.

Rinso Guide to Soaps and Detergents

These helpful directions explain for the first time which to use for every job. Presented by Rinso, the only brand to offer you both—famous Rinso Soap and sensational new Rinso Detergent.

BLANKETS: Use the Soap
You can remove a lot of dirt in a hurry with soap—and that's important. Blankets shouldn't stay in your washer more than a minute: agitation while wet shrinks them. Rinso Soap leaves blankets soft and fluffy. Yet you now pay about 5¢ less for it than for detergents.

CURTAINS: Use either
As long as you make plenty of suds, either the soap or the detergent will do a beautiful job of washing your curtains. Both Rinso Soap and Rinso Detergent get your curtains dazzling white—for an interesting reason. Both Rinsos contain SOLIUM.

DIAPERS: Use the Soap
No mother wants to risk putting a rash on baby's tender skin. So always use soap for diapers—and all of your baby's clothes. The mild, gentle soap in Rinso Soap leaves diapers fluffy-soft and non-irritating. And the SOLIUM leaves them white as snow!

DISHES, GLASSWARE: Use the Detergent
Everybody knows detergents do a better job on your dishes than soap. But this new Rinso Detergent does even more—it washes up to twice as many dishes as the most popular detergent. And Rinso Detergent is wonderfully gentle to your hands.

DRESSES: Use the Detergent
Your white dresses look whiter than new, your print dresses brighter than new, when you wash them in Rinso Detergent. That's because of the SOLIUM in Rinso. Rinso's rich suds remove dirt so efficiently that special stains need hardly any pre-scrubbing.

LINOLEUM: Use the Detergent
If the linoleum is really dirty, use a detergent to get it thoroughly clean before you wax. You'll find that Rinso Detergent's generous suds are particularly good for removing greasy or sticky stains from your kitchen linoleum. Use as little water as possible.

WORK CLOTHES: Use the Soap
If you've ever used soap for washing greasy, grimy overalls, our scientists don't have to tell you that soap gets out more dirt than any detergent. You not only save money because soap goes farther, but you now pay about 5¢ less for Rinso Soap than for detergents.

SHIRTS: Use either
Your husband's shirts will turn out gloriously clean and white, whether you wash them with Rinso Soap or new Rinso Detergent. Either way, we guarantee he'll be delighted. The SOLIUM in these two extraordinary Rinsos will give him the whitest shirts ever.

SYNTHETIC FABRICS: Use either
You can safely wash almost any fabric in the friendly suds of Rinso Soap or Rinso Detergent. Not only your cottons, as you'd expect, but also the new synthetic fabrics. They will be perfectly at home in our gentle, thorough-cleansing Rinso.

TOWELS: Use either
Your white towels will be whiter than new—and every bit as fluffy—if you wash them in either the Soap or the Detergent. One reason is that both Rinsos are perfect beavers for getting out dirt. Another is that both Rinsos contain our own sunshine-whitener, SOLIUM.

WOOL SWEATERS & SOCKS: Use the Soap
If you want your wool sweaters and socks to stay soft, the best thing you can do is wash them in soap suds. Home economists will tell you that washing with Rinso Soap removes less of the natural oil from the wool, and this helps keep it soft and fluffy.

SHEETS: Use either
The truth is that you can use either the Soap or the Detergent for your sheets. Either will do them to perfection. Both Rinsos contain SOLIUM, to leave your sheets white as can be. And both leave your sheets so soft and smooth, you only have to iron the top quarter.

Only one name to remember—RINSO

TODAY you need remember only one magic name for the finest of soaps and the best of detergents—Rinso! It's all so simple and easy. Your grocer now has Rinso in both forms—soap and detergent.

Why do we make both? Because homemakers who insist on perfection are convinced that soap is definitely better for some jobs, detergent for others. Our scientists agree, but promise that both will do a fine job on everything you wash—a sensational job if the name on the box is Rinso!

Each Rinso is the best in its class. Each will do a terrific job on everything you wash. Both Rinsos contain SOLIUM, to wash your clothes whiter than new. You can't go wrong if the name is Rinso!

Rinso Soap comes in the familiar green box. Rinso Detergent comes in a new green and yellow box. (The soap will cost you about 5 cents less.)

They are both great products, guaranteed up to the hilt by Lever Brothers Company, 390 Park Avenue, New York 22, N.Y.
