HAVING SOME FUN... before the work starts are these ladies of the Women's Club. Soon they will be steaming away in the laundry for two days to raise money for their club house. Paul Burns, owner, will donate all the money coming in to the group. When the day comes, Mrs. Hugh Bowman, who is weighed in (left) will know that it's the laundry and not the customer, Mrs. Hugh Bowman, who is weighed in, Mrs. Delbert Thomsen won't play Indian with incoming blankets causing Paul Burns to wonder slightly, and Mrs. A. E. Palmer and Mrs. Kenneth Figgins will know just what to do with a shirt.

Women's Club To Take Over Laundry Duties

There'll be quite a bit of commotion when the Torrance Women's Club goes to work in Le Moyne's Half-Hour Laundry and Cleaners, 1827 Cravens Ave., Wednesday and Thursday, August 19 and 20. The ladies will "take over" and do all of the work, except for operating the machines in order to earn money for improvements to their Club House, according to Mrs. A. E. Palmer, chairman of the ways and means committee. The laundry is turning over profits from the two days' operation to the Women's Club as its contribution to a worthwhile community project and as a means of letting the public become acquainted with the laundry's services. With 1953 power washers and dryers, the laundry specializes in shag rugs of any size as well as woolen blankets, bed spreads, and tinting. The ladies request that all members and friends of the Torrance Women's Club start saving their dry cleaning, finished laundry, shag rugs, blankets and washings, and bring these in on August 19 and 20. The laundry is located opposite the State Unemployment Office on Cravens. All work is warranted to be satisfactory and popular prices will prevail. You may bring in shirts, trousers, slacks, coats, sweaters, ladies' evening gowns and men's shirts, among others.
