

Woman's Club Plays Host at Health Center

The San Pedro Junior Woman's Club accepted the responsibility of preparing the refreshments for the reception Wednesday, September 2, of the Harbor District Mental Health Service, according to Mrs. Anthony Nizetich, president.

Co-chairmen for this event were Mrs. Joseph Spangenberg, past president and Mrs. Henry Olsen, philanthropy chairman. They are members of the Board of Directors and chairmen of the Child Service Committee.

The invitational reception was held in their offices at 731 S. Beacon street, with leaders from various harbor towns attending. The purpose of this affair was to acquaint them with what the clinic has to offer and their procedure.

The Mental Health Service is not only available to San Pedro residents, but residents from Wilmington, Harbor City, Torrance, Lomita, Palos Verdes, Waverly, Keystone, Shoestring Strip, and Redondo, Hermosa, Manhattan Beaches.

The clinic under the direction of Dr. S. G. Conrad will be open only on Wednesdays at first. Each Wednesday the San Pedro Junior Woman's Club will have two girls at the Mental Health Clinic to give patients and help them relax while waiting their turn.

Teen-Agers ...

Chief John Stroh was read at this week's meeting of the Board.

The letter complains that teenagers frequenting the malt shop behave in the most delinquent manner, depriving residents of quietude. Foul and abusive language is used and liquor bottles are strewn all over the area.

Judge John Shidler, president of the Board, and William Tolson, a member of the Board, said that if it is true that the malt shop is set up in a zone not intended for business purposes as the letter claims, and if such practices as the above go on, then it is possible for the city to get rid of the shop.

Trout fishing has remained good throughout the summer at Crystal Lake in the Angeles National Forest, the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California reports.

$200,000 Tax Promised by Business Center

A commercial development on the triangular land at Crenshaw and 101 Highway at the Torrance airport is a good possibility, City Manager George Stevens said this week.

It has been stated that the city would receive $200,000 in sales tax from the center being planned and that a state loan is being considered.

Speed is said to be important in this enterprise. It was not thought that the oil lease will complicate plans in this area. Tentative approval has already been granted by the CAA.

Six Millionth Phone Installed

The Pacific Coast's six millionth telephone was placed in service yesterday, Sept. 2, in the Barstow home of a Marine veteran of the Korean war, Master Sergeant Lionel P. Williams, and his wife, Dorothy.

Officials of both Pacific Telephone and the independent telephone associations were on hand to hail the event as a milestone in the West's telephone progress.

Tracy Skelton has offered to lease the area which involves about 30 acres.

The development would involve a regular business center with a chain drug store, a restaurant, department store, shoe store and others.
