Many pertinent issues were discussed, among which, the procuring of an already existing structure which could possibly serve as a permanent building to be moved to the center's lot held uppermost interest.

Home Still Answer To Delinquency

The home is the foundation on which all other activities of a child are built and the education against the juvenile use of narcotics lies primarily with the parents.

This thought was expressed by Deputy Farrel of the sheriff's office when he spoke at the 259th Place School P-TA associating meeting last Thursday evening.

The best ally the officer has is the vigilance of loving and diligent parents. The parent should know what his child is doing, where he is and with whom he is.
