Tartar Nine Nipped Close By Gardena

By TERRY WESTMORELAND
Torrance High's fast improving baseball nine dropped a close game on an unearned run by Gardena, Thursday, by a 2-1 margin, in a contest held in Gardena.

Catcher Manuel Oloque has already earned his name as a first rate catcher with his whip-like arm. Thursday Oloque lived up to all expectation by nipping two Diamond men from Gardena with his sure shots to his infield men.

Other Tartars making a name for themselves are outfielder Burt Smith, and Ronnie Anderson is a top utility man, serving equally well at third base, the mound and at first. These are only a few of the cogs in the THS baseball machine.

The Tartars started off the season by dropping their first few games mostly on errors. With a little more practice, Torrance should pull through in fine shape and make a good showing in the Bay League.

Today the Tartar nine opens their season with an important contest with Santa Monica.

Kids To Hold Kite Flyers: Kite Contest Watch Those Power Lines!

A kite armada will invade Torrance Saturday, March 20, at 2 p.m. in Torrance Park, Arlington and Santa Fe, when hundreds of youngsters will compete in the kite-flying contest sponsored by the Recreation Department.

Boys and girls are asked to bring their kites to the park. Prizes will be given for the biggest, smallest, most novel, most outstanding, and most colorful kites, according to Les Breitenfeldt, director of the contest.

The following merchants are contributing to the contest: McCown's, Garsh Auto Supply, Dr. Joe Bay, Fenwick's Shoes, George's Eat-in' Place, Newberry's, LeKing's Shoe Store, Karl's Shoe Store, National Barber Shop, Neta's Tois and Teens, Torrance Men's Shop, Torrance Cycle and Sports Shop, National Paint Store, and Barnett's Cabinet Shop.

This is the season of the year when kids and kites cause concern to the power companies, according to L. E. Jenkins, Southern California Edison company district manager. Several instances of kite trouble have already occurred, resulting in interruptions to electric service.

Edison company officials repeatedly have pointed out the danger that lies in flying kites near electric lines, and urge parents to warn their children to fly kites only in safe places. A particularly hazardous practice also is the use of wire in a kite frame or the use of wire or tinsel string instead of the safer cotton kite cord.

It also has been warned that should a kite become caught in electric or telephone lines, children should never pull on the kite or climb a pole to try to get it down. The Edison company office should be notified immediately.
