Posture Control, Make-Up Technique Demonstrated At Charm School Session

By MARJORIE KROGMANN

The first of a series of charm parties by the Lewis Carter School of Charm and Modeling was held Saturday evening at the Latter Day Saints Church, 2006 Cabrillo avenue.

An enthusiastic reception was accorded the demonstrations of Miss Marilyn Lord, actress of stage, screen and TV. Proceeds from the party went to the church funds.

Gracious Hostess
Mrs. Katherine Coleman, local representative for the famed Hollywood school, was gracious hostess at Saturday's event, and will continue these charm parties in the Torrance area.

For her demonstration and talk, Miss Lord selected Mrs. Margaret Wheat as the subject to explain the technique of natural looking make-up. Pointing out that the eyes and mouth are the two main features of expression, Miss Lord emphasized proper use of make-up to highlight those features.

Figure Correction
To stress the importance of proper posture, Miss Lord called six local teen-agers to the stage. After pointing out their individual figure and walking faults, the talented actress gave them helpful tips to correct stance, posture and walk. Participating teen-agers were Patty Von Reckon, Nadine Taylor, Jane Rowe, Joyce Reutmeister, Ruby Preston and Norma Newland.

Mrs. Lord lead the whole audience in posture exercise and sitting techniques. She gave very adequate and humorous demonstrations pointing out common errors walking, standing and sitting positions. She visually demonstrated that if you can see yourself as others see you, you will want to improve yourself, and she is so right.

Remembering figure control, the evening was climaxed with the serving of dainty portions of ice cream and cookies.

COUPLE WED IN GARDEN CEREMONY

An arch banked with roses, stocks and ferns set the scene for the garden wedding of Regina Abbot Gooler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Gooler of Redondo Beach, to Clifford J. Wallace, son of Mrs. Ellen Mittermeier, also of Redondo, on Monday evening.

More than 100 guests witnessed the wedding ceremony, which was officiated by Dr. Earl Barnum of the Church of Religious Science, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cluff, 1215 Banning avenue, Wilmington.

Wearing a ballerina length dress fashioned of pale blue net and lace, the bride was escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, William Friend. Her sister, Mrs. William Friend, attended as Matron of Honor. The bride carried a bouquet of red roses, with white orchid center.

Stanley Wallace, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Following the ceremony, family and friends gathered at the Wilmington Woman's Club to fete the couple.

Upon their return from a Las Vegas honeymoon the couple will reside at 1011 Hickory street, Torrance. They are both employed at the Ben Cluff Dairy.

Students Donate $125 For Foreign Scholarship Fund

Students of Torrance High School Student Body have donated $125 from their funds to aid the Torrance Chapter American Field Service International Scholarship (AFSIS) in bringing two foreign students to spend their senior year of schooling at Torrance High, and live as "adopted" members of an average American family in two homes in Torrance, according to Mrs. E. Johnson, AFSIS publicity chairman.

These two students, upon returning to their native country, will act as envoys of the democratic way of life. Exchange students have proved to be a great stimulus to the high schools throughout the United States in which they have been enrolled since the program began in 1947, Mrs. Jansson said.

Other recent donations for this community-wide project are $25 from the Torrance Council of P.T.A. and $20 from the Torrance High School P.T.A. Between $600 and $950 must be realized soon to bring these two students here, depending on the countries from which they come.

The first fund-raising project undertaken by the chapter committee will be a complete "ham brunch" to be served at the YWCA on Saturday, April 24, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., under the direction of Mesdames J. E. Popovich and Willard Keys, ways and means chairmen.

Scouts Hold Back-Yard Camp-Out

Girl Scout troop number 416 sponsored by St. Andrew's Episcopal Church held a back-yard camp-out, April 13 at the E. M. Dilkus home, 1216 Hickory. Leader Mrs. Richard Miller was unable to be present, but the other leaders, Mrs. Walter Mathlin and Mrs. Dilkus, were in charge. Mrs. Paul Bischoff was the licensed camper.

Mrs. Gus Dodos, a war bride from Holland, told the scouts of the hardships during the war and about the scouts of her native country. Among the campers were Geraldine Dilkus, Linda Williams, Carol Lee Mathlin, Edith Bischoff, Linda Grubbs, Diane Mills, Carolyn Nelson, Lynn Barrett, Virginia Krauzer, Sharon Ritchie, Karen McTea, Paula Blankinship, Rita Bacon.

Mrs. Schwab Addresses Club

Mrs. M. M. Schwab reported on the progress of the American Field Service International Scholarship drive being staged here at a luncheon meeting of the Senior Women's Club yesterday, according to Mrs. G. C. Van Deventer, president.

Also on the program was a skit presented by Mrs. Douglas McClay dramatizing the coming Flower, Art and Hobby Show at the Civic Auditorium.

The luncheon, an informal pot-luck affair, was held at the Women's clubhouse under the chairmanship of Mrs. F. P. Foley.

Any group desiring further information or a speaker's service should contact Mrs. Schwab, FAirfax 8-1391, or Mrs. Raus, FAirfax 8-6345.
