Naomi Circle Has Potluck Supper At The Ron Bishops'

Members of the Naomi Circle of the Methodist Church entertained their husbands last Saturday evening with an informal potluck supper held in the patio of the 3341 Opal street home of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Bishop.

Attending as guests were Reverend and Mrs. John Taylor, and sharing the festivities were Messrs. and Mesdames Harold Littleton, Ronald Petrat, Bob Flowers, Les Murdock, Don Harding, Harold Hayes, A. U. Turner, Jess Lockhart, Tom Thornton, and Ron Bishop.

Highlight of the gathering was an exchange of gifts after the supper. Each couple brought two gifts which were exchanged among the group during games, the gifts taking the place of prizes as well.

Although planned as a money-raising project, and hailed as a notable success on that score, the group enjoyed the affair to such an extent that the circle is planning more such get-togethers in the future.

High Cultural Goals Of Delphian Society Told

The Delphian Society, founded in 1910 as an independent national non-sectarian and non-political discussion group, has organized a Torrance chapter due to the efforts of Mrs. L. N. McKown.

The Torrance group, Kappa Chapter of the Delphians, met for the first time last Thursday morning, and will continue to meet the second and fourth Thursdays in the Torrance Library lecture room from 10 a.m. to noon.

Officers of Group
Newly elected officers are Mrs. H. M. Davis, president; J. S. Dresser, vice-president; G. E. Walker, secretary; D. J. Quinlivan, treasurer, and W. G. Smith, chairman of the seminar board.

At the present time membership is open until a total of 35 is enrolled for the three-year seminar.

Study Methods
The three-year seminar is a college level program outlined under three classifications, psychology, culture, and political patterns as they are formed by culture.

Members are given assignments to study at home from books that are furnished by the society. However, no books or written notes are taken to the meetings. Each member takes her turn as moderator in the discussions, and although the opening speaker may speak as long as three minutes, others are limited to a one-minute discourse on the subject at hand.

This enables all to participate in discussions on diverse subjects covering numerous phases of modern life.

The goal of the group is to gain from their discussions a mature personality, family stability, and responsible citizenship.
