NEW HIGH . . . The 1955 Studebaker Commander Regal 4-door sedan, priced with the lowest cost V-8s on the market, sets a new high in performance standards with its powerful new 140-horsepower "Pacesetter" engine. Starting tomorrow the car will be shown at Belmont J. San Chez, 1350 American ave., Long Beach.

New '55 Studebakers On Display Friday

Three new and more powerful engines, ranging from 101 to 175 horsepower, are in the Champion, Commander and new President models of the 1955 Studebaker line of passenger cars.

The new models will be on display starting tomorrow, Friday, October 22, at Belmont J. San Chez, Long Beach Studebaker dealer located at 1350 American avenue.

Studebaker engineers have achieved high horsepower in the three new engines with relatively small cubic displacement. This has been done by designing the engines to make maximum effective use of each fuel charge, and by ample manifolding to permit free passage of intake and exhaust gases.

The new Champion L-head "Victory-6" engine is rated at 101 horsepower. Tests on the Studebaker Proving Ground during the last year have proved that this new engine retains the traditional Champion economy of operation.

The new Commander "Pacesetter" V-8 engine has 140 horsepower. One of its features is a stroke of one 2 13/16 inches with a bore of 3 9/16 inches.

A 175-horsepower "Wilcat" V-8 engine, most powerful ever built by Studebaker for passenger cars, is the new President
