Waleria Kids Given Presents

More than 700 eager eyed youngsters oh'd and ah'd as Santa Claus and his reindeer arrived at Waleria park Friday night to present each and every child with a filled Christmas stocking.

The cheerful annual Christmas party was sponsored by the Waleria Businessmen's club, whose members, the night before, acted as Santa's little helpers in filling the stockings with apples, oranges, candy, and toys.

Prior to Santa's arrival, the children were entertained by the Soul Seekers sextet and Hap Henry and his animal acts.

Club President Virgil Hancock said a few words and introduced Jim Whitmer, master of ceremonies and Christmas party chairman.

XMAS PARTIES Ban Liquor At Office Parties Hahn Asks

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn today urged that the ban on liquor at county office parties voted this week by the board of supervisors at the request of Supervisor John Anson Ford be adopted by private employers.

"Christmas is a religious holiday and should be observed in a reverent manner," Supervisor Hahn said.

He pointed out that both the Governor and the county board of supervisors had banned liquor at governmental office parties as a measure of respect to the reasons for Christmas, and to prevent accidents caused by drunken drivers.

Members of the Torrance Police Reserves, The Torrance recreation department made the park available for the Yule festivities.
