Gala Sweetheart Ball Scheduled Saturday

The Sweethearts' Ball, sponsored by the Torrance high school band, will be held this Saturday night, March 5, in the Torrance Civic Auditorium. Slated to start at 9 p.m., with dancing until midnight, the ball will feature two bands . . . Manuel Burguia's "Vamps," and the Tartar Dance Band. The students hope to make this ball an annual event, with the highlight being the selection of the "King of Hearts" and a "Queen of Hearts." These dignitaries are to be chosen by the student body. The students have devoted much time and work toward the ball, student body press sources report, and they also ask everyone to bring a date . . . "no stags."

Elks Ladies Navy Family To Vote Club Visiting Here Name At Meet

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Elder of 2325 Carson street welcomed their daughter Sara and her husband, Cmdr. Robert W. Epps and the four Epps children, who arrived in Torrance last Friday from Norfolk, Virginia. The family will remain in Torrance until March 27 when they will leave for San Francisco en route to Honolulu where Commander Epps will be stationed with the Navy for two years. Traveling with their parents are 2-month-old Margaret Alice, Mary Edith, 7, Albert, 12, and Loella, 16. The Eppses have not been to Honolulu since they stopped there for a few short hours ten years ago en route to Samoa. Mrs. Jo Fahnestock is chairman of the by-laws committee.

Couple Return From Honeymoon

Returning to Torrance last week from their honeymoon in Ensenada were newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Jose Magallanes, the former Sylvia Ann Baligad, who were married during a Nuptial Mass recently at St. Columban's Catholic church in Los Angeles.

The young couple, whose wedding was witnessed by approximately 350 friends and kin on February 13, will soon be leaving to establish residence in San Francisco where the bridegroom is stationed with the Navy. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Baligad of 3729 W. 190th street, and has been studying for the nursing profession since her graduation from Torrance High School.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Segundo Magallanes, the groom graduated from Serra High School and attended UCLA prior to his enlisting in the Navy, where he is presently studying to be an electronic technician. For the double ring ceremony, the former Miss Baligad wore a floor length princess line gown of ivory satin over Chantilly lace, the full skirt flowing gracefully into its long train. A crown of seed pearls caught her long veil of illusion net, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered by an orchid. Two small train-bearers were Florence and Vangie Alwag, who wore bouffant floor length dresses of pale pink and lavender. Little Ben Alwag was ring bearer, and Kathy Dadilla, cousin of the bride, was flower girl in a full length dress of white net over blue taffeta.

Bridal Attendants: Maid of Honor Ann Selma wore a floor length gown of ice blue with a matching cap of velvet. Her colonial bouquet was composed of lavender carnations. Bridesmaids Donna Von Steeg, Corinne Alwag, and Melhrea French, who wore dresses of lavender nylon net over satin. Best man was Frank Rickman, while escorting the large assemblage to seats were ushers Monte Dye, Tom Linder-smith, and Roger Stein, all of whom are in the Navy with the groom.

JUNIORS TO NAME OFFICERS

The ballot will be presented for the election of new officers at the business meeting of the Junior Woman's Club of Torrance on Wednesday, March 9, at the clubhouse.

Hostess for the evening will be Mrs. D. G. Paul, and the ways and means project of "A Penny a Year" for the Red Cross under the chairmanship of Mrs. Norbert Fahey, will be inaugurated. Also to be presented at the meeting will be the revision of by-laws.
