

'FEATHER' TICKLES AUDIENCE

A hilarious two-act comedy, "The Knight of the Turkey Feather," brought peals of laughter from the audience at the Waleria School open house held recently in the school auditorium. The play, presented by Mr. McDaniel's eighth grade class, dealt with a boy's desire to be a knight. His ensuing adventures and mishaps provided a lot of fun for both the cast and the audience.

The leads were carried by Roger Bryan, Ricky Hull, Marilyn Welch and Pam Lippold. Supporting the leads at the Tuesday night performance and at the two performances on Wednesday were Louise Marsh, Stirling Sheardown, Harvey Jinks, Gary Thompson, Douglas Lemaster, Jim Hunter, Richard Whitmer, Mary Miles, Priscilla Beasley, Gale Askew, Steve Miles, Joe San Paolo, Max Montgomery, Don Lipari, Dennis Harvey, Paul Herrera, Pat Willey, Nellie Kelley, Peggy Balch, and Lil Nishimoto.

Scenery was prepared by Sandra Hyland, Cheryl Kean, Betty Meyers, Gale Askew, Steve Miles, and Pam Lippold under the direction of Joe San Paolo.

Construction crew work was directed by Bob Butcher and included Jim Hunter, Ricky Hull and Douglas Lemaster.

Prompting was well handled by Darlene Stevens and Cheryl Kean, and sound effects and lighting by Douglas Lemaster.

Camp Fire Candy Sales Success Told

During the recent Camp Fire Candy Sale, there were 26,060 boxes of the chocolate covered mints sold in the Harbor district this year. This figure is an increase of better than 7000 boxes of candy over last year's sales.

Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds, accompanied by parents or other adults, made the rounds of their own neighborhoods and other selected areas, covering a great deal of territory on foot.

Camp Fire Girls selling more than 150 units (300 boxes) of candy were eligible for the title of Ka Pa Princesses, and along with the Shining Suns (Blue Birds meeting the same selling requirements), they will be honored at a special Fun Day later on in the summer.

Princesses Named
Ka Pa Princesses in the Harbor District from the society were Diane Culwick and Judy Gleghorn, from Mrs. W. G. Gleghorn's Ki Ya Da We group in Harbor City; Melba Allen, Sharon Breniman, Beverly Jones, Pamela Lytle, Harriett Nishimoto, Evelyn Owings and Lynne Trantham, from Mrs. Jack Imbaglazo's Tanda group in Waleria; and Judy Butler, Patty Lovett and Eurlene Wood from Mrs. J. G. Lovett's Wa Di Pa Shu group in Waleria. Carol Allen, a Blue Bird from Mrs. George Allen's Sunshine Girls in Waleria became eligible to become a Shining Sun.

High sales girls for the Harbor were Sharon Breniman who sold 255 boxes and Pamela Lytle, selling 219 boxes of candy.

Profits from the candy sales together with the allowance provided by the Community Chest (of which Camp Fire is a Red Feather service) make up the operating budget for the year and provide capital improvements for Camp Yallani, the resident Camp Fire camp in the San Bernardino mountains.

Science Classes Explained To P-TA

Science, as taught to grade school students, was the highlight of the program of the last meeting of the 259th Place P-TA. The classes of John Wren and Arthur Anderson conducted a series of experiments relating to air pressure, oxygen and nourishment of plants.

The students from Wren's room who participated in the experiments were Vicki Moody, Theresa Grohs, Billy Andrews, Janie Morgan, Jack Stanley and Gordon Gasser.

A film was shown concerning the necessity of Do's and Don'ts in the discipline of a child's life and how the parent can help the child adjust to sharing life with other children. Mrs. Helen Shuler of the faculty narrated.

During the business meeting, the plan for the ice cream social on May 13 was approved by the association. Also approved was a recommendation to give three honorary life memberships at the June meeting.

Mrs. W. E. Zell, president, announced that $173.67 was made at the recent paper drive. Gordon Gasser of the student body accepted a check for $81.36 for the school's share of the proceeds.

Dance Festival
Miss Frances Dastarac, school principal, announced a dance festival to observe Public Schools' Week to be held on Friday, April 29 from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. on the school grounds. The theme will be "Our Heritage in Dance" and the public is invited.

She also announced that based on a series of tests of grade school students in all of the Los Angeles school system, Ronald Williams placed among the first ten students in spelling. Ronald is in Loren White's room and has attended 259th Place school since kindergarten. Parents were urged to remember to send the 10c per child donation to add to the school's quota for the Health Center. The school is $38 short of its $38 quota.

The mothersingers group sang a hymn for the inspirational. These in the group were Mesdames Katherine Mulhern, Margaret Allen, Marie Long, Lois Bowling, Irma Elpper, Alice Torgerson and Nell Irvine. Mrs. Leah Stanton accompanied the group.

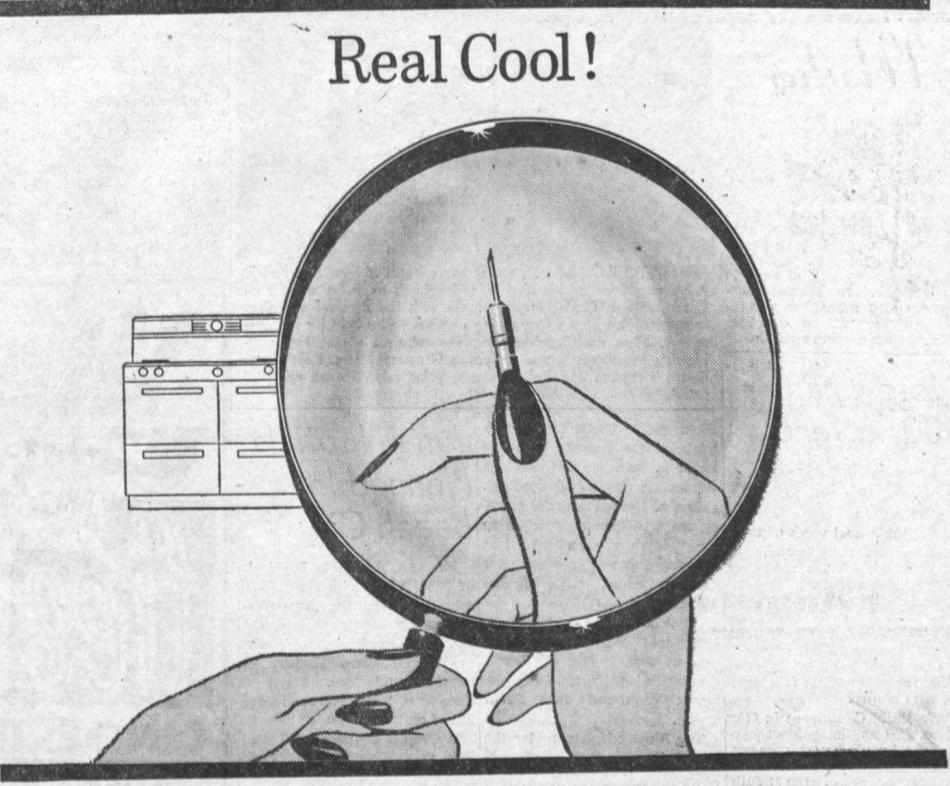

Meeting for the first time and entertaining with an open house in the hall of the Western Avenue Baptist church, was the recently organized Parent Fellowship group of that church.

MOTHERS FETED AT RECEPTION

The recently organized Junior Court of St. Catherine at Nativity parish, held a reception for mothers of court members last night in Nativity hall, following a Holy Hour service in the church.

The program included skits presented by the various troops of the court. A fashion show was given by the troop led by Mrs. John Melville; Mrs. F. C. Rick's troop presented "The Blue Beret" skit; "The Shrine of Fatima" was portrayed by the girls under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Hardesty; and Mrs. Joseph Terkman's group served as mistresses of ceremonies.

Other entertainment included a ballet presented by Marilyn Revell and Carol Armstrong, and a pantomime by Jeannie Spangler and Susan Gately, junior court president.
