 the welfare of the community to be protected comes ahead of individual desires and is paramount to the rights of the individual and his dog," Dr. Shery said emphatically. When it was mentioned that the anti-vivisectionists fought such a law in Los Angeles, Dr. Shery replied, "A rabies law has nothing to do with vivisection."

 come the idea of having to move the present hopper. They made no comment following the Council's action. Councilman Willys Blount voted "no" on the Council's particular motion, stating that as far as he was concerned, the firm should not be granted a variance under any circumstances.

Dear Editor ...
Endorses Rabies Law
 Editor Torrance Press: I know the feeling of worry over a "bite" from an animal. My neighbors cat did some vicious biting a couple of weeks ago. I was one of the individuals he bit. The cat was quarantined for 10 days. My arm got very sore where he bit me and I was just plain scared. But he proved o.k. and was I relieved! If it had been a dog instead of a cat I would probably have had to start the Pasteur treatments. If a few of these so-called "dog-lovers" had to go through a few days of awesome waiting themselves I think they would change their minds—but fast! Mrs. J. N. McNew 1634 Acacia company's request, indicated that the proposed addition would block the natural vision from nearby homes, even if the building were built on ground-level only. Also speaking against the firm's request was James Morrison, who pointed out that the eventual building would be seven times larger than the present one. Harbor City school faculty was honored recently with a fried chicken luncheon given by the P.T.A. board. Mrs. James Alexander was in charge, and was assisted by Mmes. Leland Van Buren, Stephen Silkoff, G. S. Andreotti, William Tregerthen, and Charles Hilzer.

 A later motion by Mayor Albert Isen was endorsed by Blount and the rest of the Council. This motion was to the effect that the variance would be void if the firm refuses to relocate the hopper within 30 days after a site is indicated. "Anyone putting such a monstrosity up runs the risk of moving it a bit fast, especially when no permission to put it up was given in the first place," Blount stated. A committee consisting of John Russell, building superintendent; Ronald Bishop, city engineer; and Planning Commission President Beverly Smith will investigate a satisfactory site. Officials for the Home Favors League Wednesday stated that the large turn-out of residents was greatly responsible for protecting their interests.
