TORRANCE SHOE MART ANNOUNCES OPENING

Michel Singer and Sandy Menein announced the opening of a new shoe store in Torrance, next to the old Bank of America building on Sartori at the corner of Engracia, with grand opening scheduled for Friday, September 9.

To celebrate open house on that day a pair of nylons will be given to each woman buying a pair of dress shoes, a pair of dress socks will be given to every man buying a pair of dress shoes, and to girls and children two pairs of bobby socks with nylon heels and toes will be given with each purchase.

The new shop will specialize in dress shoes, work shoes, and boots.

Menein announced that the policy of the store will be to fit everyone properly. They will handle various widths in women's sizes from triple-A to triple-E, in men's sizes from A to triple-E, and in children's sizes from A to double-E.

Singer stated that "a minimum amount of money was spent on frills and fancies, such as fixtures and furniture."

He explained that with their policy of selling up to the minute shoes for less, all unnecessary expense has been eliminated.

He also stated that the policy of the firm is "no cancellations, no factory defects, no seconds, but all new quality shoes."

Both of the partners have patronized local concerns solely in preparing their store because, they said, they believed in "spending Torrance money in Torrance."

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Conner, of 23026 Huber Avenue, announce the birth of a son, John Clayton, weighing 7 pounds and 8 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan N. Isman, of 121 S. Prospect, announce the birth of a son, weighing 7 pounds.
