New Column To Appear This Week

Maude Miller, fashion consultant and commentator for the annual fashion show produced by Ella Schwartz and the Sam Levy Department Store, has turned her talents to a new field.

She will write the column, "Here at Home," which appears in the Press for the first time this week. The column concerning news of Torrance will be found every week on page 2 in the outside column.

In regard to the origin of her column Mrs. Miller said, "How can anyone help loving Torrance? It's small enough to give you a sense of belonging and, yet, it's alive, and vital, and growing. We thought it would be fun to write about it."

Although she is recognized locally for her activities in connection with the Sam Levy fashion show, which has always been an outstanding social event benefiting local charities, the world of fashion is only a small part of her life. She has been star of her own television show and she wrote and dramatized stories for children as well.

She is the mother of three sons and taught school in New Jersey. She is the wife of Benjamin Miller, business man, of Vernon, California.

The executive board of the Torrance high school P-TA recently held its first meeting of the season in the high school building.

Mrs. Hal Smith, budget and finance chairman, read the tentative budget prepared by her committee and recommended that it be voted upon at the first meeting of the association.

Mrs. Charles Curtiss, program chairman, reviewed for approval of the board, the program outlined by her committee.

Mrs. E. Whitcomb, chairman of ways and means, announced that plans were being made to operate the concession booth again at the home football games.

Mrs. Whitcomb said, "This is the only money-making project of the high school P-TA, and, as in the past, fifty percent of the profits, will be turned over to the student council at the end of the season."

Mrs. J. L. Hinds, president, announced that a workshop was held on September 27 for all committee chairmen.

CRENSHAW TO BEGIN ACTIVITIES

The first regular meeting of Crenshaw Elementary P-TA will be Wednesday, October 5, at 7:30 p.m., in the school cafeteria.

The proposed budget for the year will be presented to the association for approval at that time.

A brief skit planned by Mrs. Don Robinson, magazine chairman, and Mrs. Myron Spaulding will be a program feature.

At this time, the association will meet the faculty and become acquainted with them.
