

449 DOG OWNERS CITED

New cases of animal rabies continued to be discovered in the southwest section of Los Angeles county in spite of greatly increased enforcement efforts, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn reported this week.

During the month of October, 916 stray dogs were impounded and 449 dog owners were cited for failure to comply with the leash law, Supervisor Hahn said. However, eight new cases of rabies were reported, six of these in the last two weeks of October.

In an effort to have the rabies epidemic controlled, the board of supervisors has authorized a 24-hour a day, seven days a week patrol of poundmasters in the southwest areas. They have been provided four new trucks with two-way radio for rapid communication.

In addition, the board of supervisors, on motion of Supervisor Hahn, has directed all county employees working out in the field in unincorporated areas to report all stray dogs to the poundmaster.

Supervisor Hahn urged all citizens who see stray dogs running loose in the city of Los Angeles to report it to Michigan 5211, and in the unincorporated areas directly to the county pound at LOrain 7-2293. In Torrance call South Bay Humane Society, FR. 2-8100.
