Kiwanians Fete Daughters With Gala Social Evening

Gerald Eastham, president of the Kiwanis club of Torrance announced that the only major difference between "Father-Daughter Night" which was held recently, and "Father-Son Night" which was held some weeks ago, "was the lesser degree of noise at the daughter meeting and the lesser degree of chicken for the fathers at the son meeting."

Vice-presidents Jay Barrington and Joe Doss were in charge of entertainment for daughter night. It included comedian Stew McGoo and a western band.

Very young ladies present were: Stacy Barrington, Tudy Meier, and Sally Post. It was noticed that these young misses stayed modestly near their mothers for the entire evening. Some persons hinted that this was because they were babes in arms, but others realized that this was simply the mark of a well brought-up young lady on her first entrance into the social whirl.

Up The Social Ladder
 A bit more accustomed to the debutante world were: Donna Easley, Jeanette Ragsdale, Cheri and Nanette Virden, Alice and Betsy Mewborn, Sheila and Sherry Pfeil, Cathy Miller, Judy and Barbara Hitchcock, Pennie, Cardace, and Laurie Voen, Cheri and Karen Hanson, Pam Meadoway and Doris Hull.

Others were: Diana Stephens, Janet King, Susan Casey, Helen and Sheila Halloran, Ann Montague, Donna Wildes, Helen McVicar, Diane Rogers, Janet Strand, Carol and Shirley Johnson, Patti Anderson, Judy Doss, Leslie and Claudia Barrington, Kathy Thomsen, and Sandra Risher.

Past masters in the demands of society were: Jeanne Clayton, Phyllis Klink, Judy, Sharon and Leah Stanton, Jerry Wood, Patricia McVicar, Nancy Pyle, Francis Barrington, Patty Backlund, Dixie Von Bergen, Jane Scotland, and May Haslam.

Final Try-Outs Set For ACCENT: Theatre! Show

The search is still on for a little boy to play the title role in "The Littlest Angel," forthcoming production by ACCENT: theatre! of Torrance, for the city-wide community Christmas celebration.

Second and final try-outs for singers and actors will be held tomorrow night at 8 p.m., at the YMCA, 2080 Washington.

Parts are open for children, adults with public speaking or theatre experience, and singers to make up the "celestial choir," Mrs. H. F. Hinlein, ACCENT president, has announced.

The production is under the direction of Noralee Benedict; and Nadine Farrar Nickol will be musical director.

There will be a matinee performance on Sunday, December 18, and evening performance on the 19th and 20th.

The production will be done with a narrator and pantomime. Position are open for anyone interested in costuming and technical work.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Heinlein at FA. 8-6130.

Delphians Will View 'Labor and Nation'

The Delphian society will meet today at 10 a.m., at the public library, to discuss the topic "Labor and the Nation."

The meeting is called today to avoid having the regularly scheduled meeting which would fall on Thanksgiving day.

Leader of the discussion will be Mrs. Warren Hamilton.

Opening speakers will be: Mesdames R. E. Beecher, S. J. Platin, L. G. Jones, H. M. Davis, and J. M. Stewart

Run Holiday Event List

A calendar of Christmas holiday events will run in the Thursday, December 1, issue of the Press.

All social, religious, and service organizations wishing to list events may mail them to the Torrance Press, 1406 Cravens. Lists may be mailed now. All lists must be in by 10 a.m. on Friday, November 25.

Information should list only the organization, the event, the date, the time, and the place.

Dinner and Tour Planned

The Women of the Moose are planning a trip to Chinatown for dinner and a sight-seeing tour on Wednesday, November 30.

They are chartering a bus which will leave from the Moose hall on Carson street at 6:30 p.m. Families and friends of the members are invited, announced Mrs. Helen Benton.

Greenthumb Club Meeting Set Tonight

The Greenthumbers Garden club of Allied Gardens will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Ida Handley, at 8 p.m.

A guest speaker is planned.

The last meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Barrows with Mrs. Howard Elliott, vice-president, presiding.

A poem was read by Mrs. Barrows.

Plans were formulated to help bring Christmas cheer to some of the hospital patients, and for a Santa Claus to give candy to the children of Allied Gardens.

Give Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. M. A. Bauman and Mrs. Delbert Thomsen were hostesses at a bridge luncheon at the Portuguese Bend club last week.

Their guests were a group of friends who meet the year round to play bridge at the various homes.

Mrs. Bauman and Mrs. Thomsen chose this special and gracious way of entertaining the group once every year.

Guests were: Mesdames John Beeman, W. C. Boswell, Jr., Eugene Cook, Laura Felker, Paul Loranger, Herman Mitchell, John Melville, Parke Montague, Ralph McNeil, Ralph Rugraff, and B. T. Whitney.

First prize at bridge was won by Mrs. Parke Montague; and second prize was won by Mrs. Ralph McNeil.

Cooking Class Features Holiday Hints Today

"Harvest Time Treats" will be the feature of a special cooking class at the civic auditorium, 1347 El Prado, this afternoon from 1:30 until 3 p.m.

Mrs. Margie Ewen, home economist for the Southern California Gas company, has prepared a unique program filled with menu ideas, according to information received from the Torrance Recreation department which is sponsoring the event.

The menu includes: roast turkey with wild rice and bread stuffing, shish kebabs with Armenian pilaf, special pumpkin pie with crunchy coconut and pecan topping, molded harvest salad, persimmon mallow, and blueberry griddle cakes.

See Them Prepared . . . All of these foods will be prepared during the class. It will be possible to see how a home economist goes about preparing, cooking and serving; to pick up short cuts that will make holiday dinners easier and quicker to serve, reported the recreation department.

Mrs. Ewen will have the stage equipped with the latest model automatic gas ranges, one with the new rotisseries broiler, and the fabulous "Icemaker" refrigerator.

Door Prizes To add the finishing touches to this free class, door prizes will be furnished

YWCA Plans International Holiday Fete

A "Candlelight Coffee Hour" for members and friends of the YWCA has been scheduled for Monday, November 28, at 8 p.m. at the Torrance YWCA, according to Mrs. Thomas Westfall, chairman of the Torrance membership committee.

The purpose of the coffee hour is to acquaint members and friends of the YWCA with its purpose and program, particularly that of the teen-age members.

Mothers of Y-teens are especially invited to share this evening and to get acquainted with the YWCA, said Mrs. Westfall.

Initial plans were made when a subcommittee from the membership and Y-teen committees met at the home of Mrs. Allen L. Pyatt, 804 Cerise.

Those attending the planning meeting were: Mesdames Rufus Sandstrom, Otis S. Blackstone, and Marian Fatout.
