Foursquare Moves to New Location

A long cherished dream has been fulfilled this past week when the local Foursquare church moved to their new location and new building. The Southeast corner of Arlington and Sepulveda was purchased some two years ago for the new site where a parsonage has been built and the first of three units of the church. This first unit, semi-modern in architecture, is a functional building designed for junior and primary Sunday school age groups, but will also be utilized for church worship services while the second unit is under construction.
